Emissary Issues Vigorous Protest For Cairo Arson

CAIRO (AP) — The United States protested vigorously Friday against an orgy of arson and pillage by African students that left the John F. Kennedy memorial library at the American compound in flaming ruins.

U.S. Ambassador Lucius Battle handed the protest to Farid Abou Shadi, acting foreign minister of the United Arab Republic. Shadi's expression of regret was considered unsatisfactory, U.S. sources said.

PREMEDITATED

Secretary of State Dean Rusk had sent the ambassador a message saying he was much disturbed by Thursday's violence and this was conveyed to U.A.R. authorities.

An American who witnessed the attacks declared it was premeditated and carefully arranged. The students, as has President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government, denounced the U.S.-Belgian operation in the northeast Congo that rescued white hostages held by rebels.

U.S. officials privately were reported convinced the incident was fully organized, at least at the beginning.

While Cairo papers said the attack was carried out by Congolese students, some witnesses said they spotted Egyptians in the mob. Congolese in Egypt oppose Premier Moise Tshombe's Congo regime.

An embassy spokesman emphasized the protest expressed dissatisfaction with the handling of the mob by police. He said quick police action could have prevented most of the damage. Nasser's regime always has been sensitive to the possibility of street disturbances. Reliable sources say that some 600 policemen always are available near the center of the city, where the U.S. compound is located, and can be at any threatened area in a matter of minutes.

Some diplomatic sources expressed belief that the attacks by the students simply exceeded official expectations.

The organization is the chief accrediting agency of institutions of learning in a deep south swing west from Virginia to Texas.

Mangum is assistant superintendent and Waldrop, elementary supervisor. Howell and Braley are principals respectively of Ouachita Parish and West Monroe High Schools.

They'll leave early Sunday and drive over together.

In January they will join Howe, who is stationed in Tripoli, Libya with the United States Air Force. The Howes were stationed at Washington, D.C. before Howe was transferred overseas.

HAWAIIAN REST

Defense Department Wants Retreat Kept

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department disagrees with the recommendation of the comptroller general that a mountain recreation retreat in Hawaii for military personnel be closed or made self-supporting.

It noted that 10,511 members of military families used the retreat — Kilauea on the island of Hawaii — in the fiscal year 1963.

"In view of this significant usage, it is considered that closure would have an undesirable effect on the morale of forces stationed in this area," said a letter from Asst. Secretary of Defense Norman S. Paul to the General Accounting Office, headed by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell.

In a report to Congress earlier this week, the General Accounting Office (GAO) said the government had spent more than $1 million in 1963 to operate the retreat. This included $850,000 in appropriated funds, it said, and some $250,000 in fees from guests and from other revenue-producing activities.

The GAO suggested the camp

Joint Board Needed For Ship Wreck

U.S. Coast Guard Holds No Control For Investigation

NEW YORK (AP) — An international board of inquiry was under consideration Friday in the baffling Thanksgiving Day collision of the Israeli liner Shalom and a Norwegian tanker. Both ships carried radar that should have warned them away from each other.

The U.S. Coast Guard has no jurisdiction to investigate the collision, which occurred in international waters. That left it up to the Israeli and Norwegian governments to set up a joint board to seek the cause of the crash, and to assess damages. Such a probe already was under discussion.

19 KILLED

Nineteen crewmen of the tanker, Stolt Dagali, died in the collision at 2:23 a.m. Thursday, 3.5 miles off Point Pleasant, N.J. Twenty-four others were saved by an air and sea rescue operation.

The tanker was cut in two by the heavier liner, which was outbound three hours from New York on a gay, 10-day West Indies cruise. The Shalom's 616 passengers and 460 crew members escaped with no more than minor bruises, and the liner made it safely back to New York.

There was heavy fog in the area of the collision. But the radar apparatus on both vessels was supposed to guard against such a tragedy — although it has failed before, notably in the 1956 collision of the Andrea Doria and the Stockholm that claimed 51 lives.

Presence of radar is not enough, a Coast Guard spokesman said, adding: "That doesn't mean the radar was turned on, or that anyone was watching it, or that it was being interpreted properly."

Capt. Avner Freudenberg of the Shalom, declared: "We have the latest in radar and it was functioning perfectly."

And a spokesman for the owners of the Stolt Dagali said: "Our radar man was on duty. He was at the set."

However, the masters of both ships, obviously obeying orders from above, refused to discuss with newsmen the events preceding the collision, or attempt any assessment of the cause.

The 629-foot, 25,230-ton Shalom, a Zim Lines luxury vessel with side-by-side twin stacks, is one of the most modern liners afloat. The flagship of Israel, she arrived in New York on her maiden voyage only last April 30.

The Shalom's home port is Haifa, but she was assigned to winter duty as a Caribbean cruise ship. Her name is a Hebrew salutation meaning "peace."

Her master, Capt. Freudenberg, 53, went to sea as a cabin boy 31 years ago, and has been a skipper for the Zim Lines for 15 years.

The skipper of the tanker, Capt. Kristian Bendorsen, 54, also is a veteran of the sea, having sailed for 30 years.

Stanleyville Rebels Stage Slaughtering, Cannibalism

45 Whites Killed In Final Rampage

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Official reports of massacres and cannibalism reached Leopoldville on Friday night, raising the known number of white hostages slain by Congolese rebels in the past week to 97.

Refugee accounts of another slaughter in a remote village in the northwest Congo could raise the toll to nearly 150 white dead.

Forty-five whites, including four Spanish nuns, were killed in a final rampage by the rebels in Stanleyville's African quarter before the section on the left bank of the Congo River was seized during the day by government troops, the International Red Cross said.

The bodies were mutilated beyond recognition, with throats cut and cannibalism suspected in several cases, a Red Cross spokesman added.

"It was like a charnel house — people were slain on top of other bodies," a refugee said on arrival in Leopoldville.

REMAINS BURIED

Earlier reports had said 28 bodies were counted. The remains of those slaughtered were buried Friday afternoon.

Refugees from Paulis, another city in the northwest Congo, brought back reports of massacres in the village of Wamba, a nearby trading post. They said as many as 45 white hostages may have been killed. These reports were not confirmed.

While the new accounts of horror reached the capital, government troops turned back several rebel counterattacks in Stanleyville. The rescue operations by Belgian paratroopers meanwhile was drawing to a close.

The left bank quarter of Stanleyville includes a large dock area. Rebel and government troops had been trading shots across the 1,000-yard-wide river ever since the main part of Stanleyville on the right bank was recaptured Tuesday morning.

Government troops crossed the river Friday in a move to secure the left bank.

One of about 11 survivors, Camille Borry, of Belgium, said: "We bought our lives with beer and money."

"The killing began in front of the main market the day before yesterday — Wednesday."

"The sisters had nothing to give."

Borry said rebel "simbas" — lions — did the killing and that most of the victims were brought to the left bank from outside Stanleyville.

In Brussels, Belgium, Premier Theo Lefevre said the paratroopers, who spearheaded the dramatic rescue of about 1,600 white hostages in Stanleyville and Paulis, would complete their mission by nightfall.

There had been reports that the paratroopers might drop at Bumba, on the eastern border, or Watsa, to the northeast.

But it was understood in Brussels that there would be no effort to rescue the 200 to 300 Belgians still in that area because parachute troop landings might endanger their lives. The U.S. Embassy said five Americans remain in rebel territory, including the Wamba area.

The best estimates were that 59 foreigners, including three Americans, were killed by the rebels in one last orgy of savagery in Paulis and Stanleyville before the paratroopers arrived in an operation that began Tuesday.

Wilson May Ask U.S. Aid On Defenses

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson may seek President Johnson's help for the upkeep of some British defense commitments overseas which serve the Allied interest.

This possibility was reported authoritatively Friday night after Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, on successive days, said the Labor government is reviewing those military commitments.

CUTS MAY COME

Callaghan's statements — in the House of Commons Thursday night and at a luncheon Friday of the Foreign Press Association — were taken as hints that some cuts may be made in Britain's $5.6-billion defense bill. About a billion of that budget is spent yearly on the upkeep of Britain's 50,000-strong Rhine army in West Germany, and on her troops and bases in Aden, Singapore, Hong Kong and elsewhere.

"We are surveying the whole field of government expenditure, including our defense commitments," Callaghan told correspondents, "we are convinced that we are not at present getting a proper return to the economy from this massive expenditure."

The chancellor is preoccupied with ways of insuring that Britain gets back into the black in her trade with the world. This general theme, coupled with the problems of Atlantic and global defense, will be the main business before Wilson and Johnson when they meet in Washington Dec. 7 and 8.

Wilson has told associates privately that leaders of the Johnson administration recognize the value to the Allied cause as a whole of Britain's military role and her bases east of Suez. The Americans, like the West Germans and other European Allies, also want the British army of the Rhine to stay where it is and, if possible, to be brought up to its full 55,000-man strength.

Callaghan argued it is in the interests of Britain's friends to see this country strong and solvent. Government officials, elaborating upon the chancellor's thinking, said his remarks were made to some extent with the Washington talks in mind.

It is Wilson's intention, they said, to impress upon the Americans that the military burden the British are carrying overseas and particularly east of Suez is as much in the Allied as in the British national interest.

Navy Aircraft Down In Alaska

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — A Navy P2V patrol plane crashed in mountainous country near Cape Newenham, Alaska, Friday, killing at least 11 of the 12 men aboard. The 12th crewman was still missing as darkness fell.

The plane took off from the Kodiak Naval Air Station here Friday morning on an ice reconnaissance flight, the Navy said. Cape Newenham is about 250 miles northwest of here.

A massive air search was launched and the wreckage was sighted 200 feet from the crest of a hill about four miles west of the Air Force Distant Aircraft Control and Warning site on the cape.

Two Men Shot In Area Deer Hunt Mishaps

WINNSBORO (Special) —

Two men were accidentally shot Friday in separate deer hunting accidents. One incident occurred in Tensas Parish, the other in Caldwell Parish.

L. F. Peters, 38, a member of the Shreveport Fire Department, is in Rogers Clinic at Winnboro after being hit with buckshot while hunting deer in Tensas Parish.

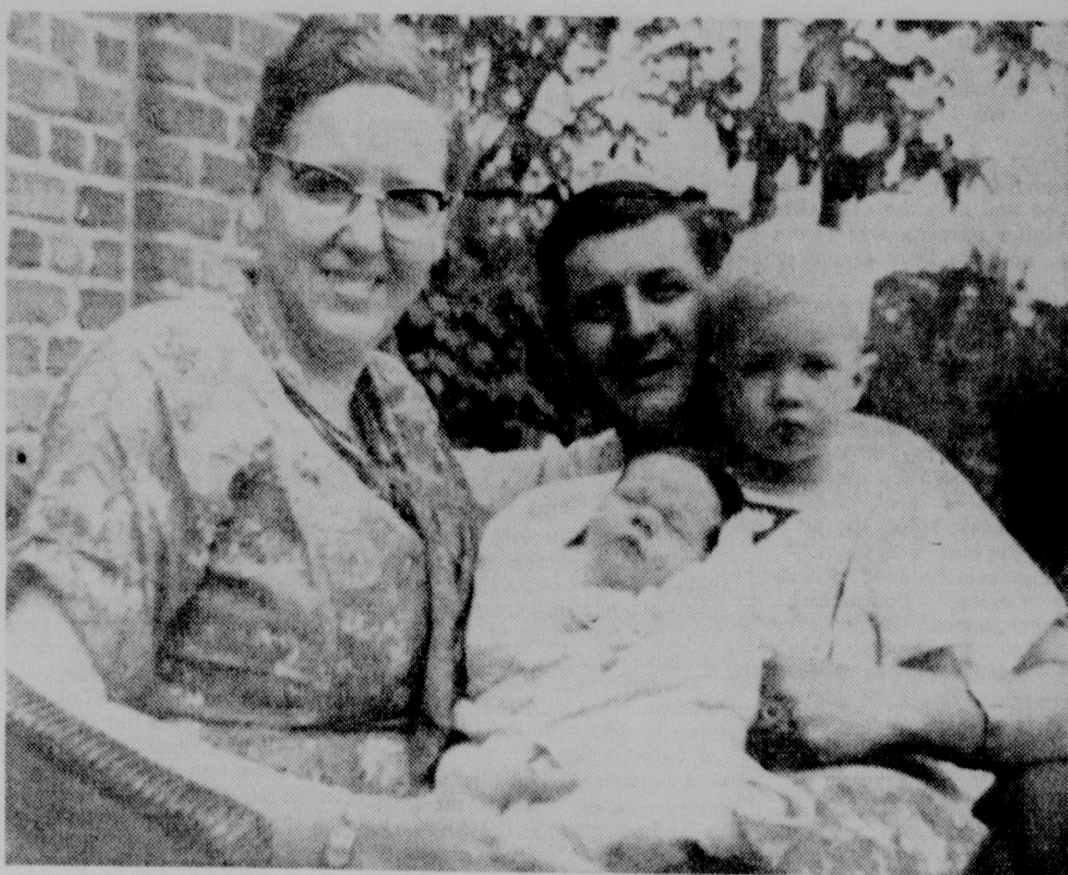

The accident occurred about 10:45 a.m. Peters was hit with one buckshot in the left shoulder. The pellet was removed at the clinic.

According to reports, Peters said a deer got between him and another hunter. The hunter shot at the deer, missed, and the buckshot hit Peters.

Woodrow Wilson, 48, of Winnboro is also in Rogers Clinic at Winnboro after accidentally shooting himself about noon Friday.

Wilson said he and his brother, Sam, also of Winnboro, were cleaning pistols at a deer camp in Caldwell Parish. He said he put down his .22 single-action revolver and when he picked it up it discharged hitting him in the left leg.

The bullet was removed at Rogers Clinic.

White House Plays Down Policy Rumor

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The White House sought to play down Friday any idea that some dramatic change in U.S. policy in South Viet Nam is a foregone conclusion.

Malcolm Kidduff, assistant White House press secretary, announced that President Johnson will confer Tuesday in Washington with Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

NO GREAT MOVE

Obviously reflecting Johnson's views, White House sources followed up the announcement with an assertion that the purpose of the meeting "is not to make some horrendous decision."

These sources insisted the current review of the Viet Nam situation is no more dramatic than a dozen or so high-level reviews in the last year or so.

The emphasis seems to be that while no dramatic change in policy is inevitable, a change in policy is not being ruled out finally.

Taylor, who returned Thursday to the United States, already has begun a series of conferences in Washington with Johnson's key diplomatic advisers, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

MEETING SECRET

Taylor Consults On Viet Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor consulted Friday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara amid strong administration discouragement of speculation that the war in Viet Nam may be expanded.

Taylor avoided any public statements and did not appear before waiting newsmen and television cameras. High State Department officials ruled out the possibility that the former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff would have anything to say until after his meeting Tuesday with President Johnson at the White House.

OTHER MEETINGS

Besides his meeting with Rusk and McNamara, Taylor conferred at length with the U.S. Agency for International Development administrator, David Bell, and with Asst. Secretary of State William P. Bundy, who has been charged by the President with responsibility for drawing together the recommendations of the State, Defense, Central Intelligence and AID agencies on the next step to be taken in the Viet Nam war.

There is a widespread impression that the United States is about to embark on some new course of action, perhaps including attacks on North Viet Nam in reprisal for the North Vietnamese support of the Communist guerrilla war in South Viet Nam.

Some high U.S. officials believe that, even if North Viet Nam halted its assistance to the Communist guerrillas, this would not necessarily end the fighting.

It is acknowledged, however, that bombing the supply routes would encourage the South Viet Nam government, by striking back at one source of its major troubles.

Taylor is expected to continue his meetings Saturday at the State Department, and, on Monday, at the Defense Department.

Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., said on a program that "We must permit the civil war in Viet Nam to carefully accelerate to a point where the Vietnamese can attack their aggressor." But, he added, "Anything of major importance — such as bombings — would have to have not only our blessing and material but, I would say sadly, American assistance."

CASE REOPENING

Investigators Quiz Key Baker Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don B. Reynolds, a key witness in Bobby Baker hearings reopening next week, was questioned for two and a half hours Friday by Senate investigators.

"We were searching for information," Lennox P. McLendon, special counsel to the Senate Rules Committee, said.

McLendon refused to say what areas were covered but he said Reynolds had provided the committee some new information relating to documents.

Reynolds, a Washington area insurance agent, eluded newsmen outside the closed committee room.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., accompanied Reynolds to the questioning which McLendon described as "routine" in preparing for a hearing.

Williams charged in a Senate speech last September that Reynolds had received a $35,000 overpayment from Philadelphia contractor Matthew J. McCloskey on a performance bond in connection with the construction of the District of Columbia Stadium.

The Delaware senator quoted

Reynolds as saying $25,000 of this alleged overpayment was channeled through Baker into the Kennedy-Johnson campaign in 1960.

McCloskey, a former ambassador to Ireland and Democratic fund raiser, has denied any knowledge of an overpayment.

Baker is the former secretary of the Senate Democratic majority, who resigned the $19,600-a-year job over a year ago. In the first round of a Senate investigation into Baker's outside business activities it was brought out his claimed net worth had zoomed from the millionaire class after he took the Senate job in 1955.

Williams said he attended Reynolds' questioning as "an interested bystander."

McLendon said he hoped the committee could finish its hearings within a week. He said he had quite a few witnesses to call but would not specify the number except to say it was under two dozen.

Asked if he intended to call any member of the White House staff to testify McLendon said, "I won't answer that question."

CONSUL SPEAKS

Rebels Not Just Against Whites

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Consul Michael Hoyt told newsmen Friday he does not believe the Congolese rebel revolt is aimed particularly at whites in general, or the United States in particular.

"Anti-Americanism was more for propaganda purposes," he said.

Hoyt, who was held captive by the rebels since Aug. 5 until rescued by the Belgian paratrooper drop on Stanleyville Tuesday, said it is difficult to say what the Congolese rebels really want except "power and material gain."

Hoyt, 35, of Chicago, arrived here Thursday night with four U.S. consular staff members rescued with him. He held a news conference at the State Department, along with David K. Grinwis, also 35, the U.S. vice consul, from Maplewood, N.J.

Hoyt repeated what has been reported by many of those rescued that only the arrival of the Belgian paratroopers saved his life and the lives of many others.

"The pattern was pretty well established," he said. "They intended to use us as a shield — as hostages — in the event of an attack on Stanleyville."

If the paratroopers and the Congolese army units had not arrived when they did, he said, the chances are "the rebels would have killed us, or taken us to the bush with them."

Hoyt said he saw no evidence of Chinese Communist influence, or of the presence of Chinese Communist advisers. The rebels claimed there were no such advisers, he added.

It is true, Hoyt said, that certain rebel leaders have visited Iron Curtain countries but their uprising essentially "was an internal movement, though not unsupported from the outside."

Although it was hard to judge from his prison, Hoyt said, the rebels knew there was "a good deal of disenchantment, and we have never seen any wholesale support of them."

"But they had guns," Hoyt added.

The consul said he and his colleagues were "beaten, humiliated, forced to write messages against our will, and put into prison as common criminals."

He was beaten with rifle butts, with sticks, as well as with bayonets, and slapped frequently, Hoyt added.

Hoyt and his assistants spent 52 days, altogether, in prison, including a couple of days "confined — 11 of us — in a women's toilet" at the Stanleyville airport.

This happened when the local rebel authorities received a telegram from Nicholas Olenga, self-styled general of the rebels, ordering his lieutenants in the city to try Hoyt and the other Americans, "without pity."

On the fateful day when the hostages were rounded up to be executed before the arrival of the paratroopers, Hoyt said he and his assistants were herded out from the Victoria Hotel. He escaped, he said, because "we ran with the rest" when the shooting began.

Hoyt said he ducked into a

STILL AROUND

Radio, TV 'Payola' Being Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government disclosed Friday it is conducting a quiet inquiry into charges that "payola" and "plugola" — outlawed by Congress in 1960 — still exist in radio and television broadcasting.

"Payola" is the taking of payment for favors on the air, such as plugging a recording by playing it over and over. "Plugola" is slipping plugs into broadcasts and taking secret payment for it.

Both were banned by the 1960 law which Congress enacted after sensational exposes during a two-year House investigation that spotlighted rigged television-radio quiz shows and knocked long-popular high-pay ones off the air.

The seven-man Federal Communications Commission said it has received "allegations from many sources" that payola and plugola still are going on despite the law. The FCC indicated its closed-door inquiry is now under way.

The investigation will remain secret, the FCC said, "unless the commission orders public sessions to the extent that it determines that public interest will be served thereby."

This means that, at least to begin with, the names of witnesses and testimony will not be made public.

There have been some bribery charges involving alleged payola prosecuted under New York State laws. But FCC sources said they are not aware of any under the 1960 federal law.

The FCC said it has complaints that some record companies and other firms have been making direct and indirect secret payments to disc jockeys. There have been complaints also of secret payments for including certain matter in broadcasts.

The 1960 law provides maximum penalties of a $10,000 fine and sentence of one year in prison for payola and quiz-show fixing. The FCC also is authorized to fine television and radio stations up to $1,000 a day for as much as 10 days for indulging in deceptive practices.

This law was passed on top of Justice Delays Death Sentences On Two Convicts

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI) — U.S. Supreme Court Justice Byron C. White Friday gave condemned killers George Ronald York and James Douglas Latham a stay of execution.

The announcement came from Roy Cook, a Kansas City attorney who has been representing the two condemned killers for the American Civil Liberties Union.

It was the second time Justice White has granted stays of execution for the confessed slayers of seven persons. They were scheduled to die on the Kansas gallows Dec. 2, between 12:01 a.m. and 2 a.m.

Attorneys for the two men asked Gov. John Anderson for executive clemency Wednesday. Anderson withheld a decision until he had an opportunity to review the case.

Friday's stay climaxed a series of appeals that took the case through the Kansas Supreme Court to the 10th Circuit Court of Appeals and on to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The U.S. high court three times refused to review the case and twice denied habeas corpus petitions.

The arrest and conviction ended a cross-country murder and robbery spree that led from Florida to Colorado. Zeidler was the sixth of seven victims.

Sales Tax Bill Predicted To Meet Death In Senate

BATON ROUGE (AP) — One with enough earmarked teachers to assure state support for the full raises they demand.

Should the Senate adopt it and a two-thirds majority of 26 votes in the 39-member Senate would be necessary — the proposal would get a popular vote in a special Feb. 9 election.

Gov. McKeithen quickly criticized the Stinson proposal, saying the people would defeat it and therefore it would solve nothing.

The Senate opens the third week of the 20-day special session at 7 p.m. Sunday. The House reports a half hour later.

Attention will be centered on the Senate next week, where final rulings will be made on a teacher salary scale and two key tax measures — the Stinson bill and the administration's House-passed real estate levy.

The Louisiana Teachers Association says the state's 36,000 public school teachers were promised annual raises averaging $1,100 each. The governor says the state can provide only half the raise now.

The LTA convention in Shreveport buzzed with strike talk. But the session was recessed last Wednesday without action. It reconvenes on the second Saturday after the legislative adjourns.

When they return, the teachers may meet in Alexandria or Baton Rouge.

Charles Faust, head of the Avoyelles Parish LTA unit which stirred talk of a strike, unless the full raise is approved said the convention shutdown leaves the governor "wondering just what we will do."

But the new LTA president, Principal Joseph L. Martina of West Jefferson High School, said when the convention closed he was not in favor of a teacher walkout.

"We must explore every possibility to negotiate with the governor and the legislature," Martina said.

Awaiting Senate action are both the Stinson proposal and McKeithen's last tax measure to raise $6 million by putting a documentary levy on real estate sales to the tune of 30 cents for each $100 involved.

The administration's real estate tax, plus other tax tightening bills moving through the Senate and House successfully so far, are designed to produce

Convict Mail Case Entered In Court List

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The U.S. District Court clerk received here Friday a suit to lift a state prison ban that narrowly restricted mail for Louisiana's 28 death row inmates.

Attorney Benjamin E. Smith, New Orleans, sent the petition by mail.

The prison at Angola last January stopped Edgar Labat, 41-year-old Negro, from exchanging letters with Mrs. Solveig Johansson, 39, of Stockholm, Sweden.

The ruling touched off banner headlines and extra editions in Sweden. It applied to all prisoners under sentence of death. Labat, condemned for rape, has been on death row 11½ years.

The suit by Smith claims the ruling deprives the condemned "of his right to free speech, to equal protection of the law . . . and subjects them to cruel and unusual punishment."

A prison employee, in making the ruling, said interracial correspondence wasn't permitted.

O. C. Sills, state director of institutions, later called the employee's statement a "gross error."

Sills said state law limits "access to death row, and this was the reason for the ruling, not segregation."

Sills said he would ask the attorney general if the law applied to mail.

The statute in question restricts "access" to prison officials, and the convict's lawyer, doctor, minister, wife and immediate family.

The attorney general's office ruled "access" covers mail and visits as well. It said only those named in the law could write to death row prisoners.

The prison stopped the letters of some 90 friends of the condemned.

"The statute," Smith said in his suit, " . . . was designed to provide reasonable physical access to condemned prisoners . . . and was not intended to regulate correspondence or to infringe on the rights of prisoners."

Smith asked that Labat and other death row inmates be regulated by the same mail privileges applying to the other 3,200 convicts at the prison.

The suit asks for a temporary restraining order against the prison ruling.

Half Dozen Still Caught In Congo, McCloskey Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Friday that no more than half a dozen Americans remain unaccounted for in the Congo after the rescue of white hostages from rebels.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said 396 persons of all nationalities were flown out of Paulis after U.S.-airlifted Belgian paratroopers swooped on that northeast Congo city Thursday. This brings the total rescued from Stanleyville and Paulis to 1,700, by the State Department's count.

McCloskey said 11 Americans previously found at the town of Akepi in rebel territory have been flown safely to Leopoldville.

The spokesman did not list the names of the "not more than six Americans" remaining unaccounted for in the rebel zone. He said they are believed to be scattered in small communities possibly quite distant from either Stanleyville or Paulis.

McCloskey said the State Department has no comment on the Soviet allegations of U.S. military aggression in the Congo. Washington says the paratroopers were sent in for purely humanitarian purposes to save hostages threatened with massacre.

Oregon Escapee Stopped; Officers Hunting Another

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Police have captured another of the seven convicts who escaped from the Washington State Penitentiary Saturday night. They said they believed another one was in Portland.

Captured Friday at a downtown hotel was Neil C. Wallen, 28, who was serving a sentence for murder. Police said another man who was with Wallen broke away. A search for him began.

Police at Payette, Idaho, captured two of the escapees Tuesday night.

The seven had tunneled 40 feet to a point just outside the prison wall, abducted a Walla Walla, Wash. couple and forced them to go along on a ride of more than 200 miles to the Portland area.

When the couple's automobile became stuck, the escapees released their hostages and fled. Captured at Payette were Harold Oscar Thomas, 40, and Richard Eugene Loux, 29. Two other men, believed to be escapees, got away when police stopped an automobile in which Thomas and Loux were riding.

Still at large are John L. Mullinix, 33, Arthur St. Peter, 39, Vertis James Barnett, 35, and Donald Maseros, 24.

Space Launch Group Louisiana Tried To Get Is Going To Florida

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans to move a space launch technical group from Huntsville, Ala., to Cape Kennedy, Fla. — a move similar to suggestions that brought charges of "political blackmail" before the election — were announced by the space agency Friday.

It said about 100 of the 140 members of the space center launch group will be moved from the Marshall Space Center at Huntsville "during the next six months." The transfer was planned more than two years ago, the announcement said.

A spokesman said the total employment at Huntsville is 7,620, including 2,728 engineers and scientists.

In October, Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., suggested that much of the top space talent might be moved to New Orleans to work more closely with production at the Michoud plant there of Saturn rocket engines for manned flight to the moon.

He said James E. Webb, space agency director, told him that hundreds of space scientists might be transferred.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said the proposal being discussed would involve only a small percentage of personnel at Huntsville.

Burch said Webb had described Alabama as the most "unappreciative" of five southern states in which NASA operations are conducted. He said Webb was clearly talking about prospects that Alabama would cast its votes for Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater for president, as it did on Nov. 3.

New Roads To Safety?

Any new highway practice or any new method of determining driver license issuance which offers marked improvement in safety without being too restrictive deserves the highest commendation. There is no likelihood, however, that a garden of absolute safety in driving can be created, any more than there is that complete safety can be found in our most beneficial medicines.

If every state in the union were suddenly to deny driver licenses to 90 per cent of the persons now holding them and were to allow only 10 per cent of the safest drivers to operate automobiles, the death rate in this country might be materially reduced, but almost insurmountable inconveniences would be imposed. Deaths by other means of transportation would jump prodigiously and even those who were forced to stay at home might not be any safer, as the greatest number of accidents occurs in the homes.

Representatives of the American Medical Association, the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators and the United States Public Health Service, in a meeting in Chicago made a recommendation for examination of drivers at least every five years.

Because of the size of the task, several states which are leading the way have introduced the program on a schedule that will call for 10-year intervals at first.

In the meeting mentioned above, delegates called for more precise figures to show the direct connection between traffic deaths and physical and mental faults of drivers. Such figures surely should be produced before a tremendous reform system that might do no good is undertaken.

Memphis, Tenn., which became known as the "silent city" because of its adoption of laws against auto horn-blowing, loud trucks, singing and whistling on the streets and other noises it deemed unnecessary, has been taking steps to obtain figures of the type desired. A committee of the Memphis and Shelby County Medical Society obtained cooperation of state, county and city officers who investigate auto accidents. Officers found drivers most willing to talk immediately after a crash. They reported finding drivers who admitted epilepsy, blackout spells and heart trouble. Medication not long before the accidents was admitted by hundreds, the report said, along with a high frequency of drivers who were having repeated accidents.

Most states thus far have not made a policy of denying driver licenses to handicapped persons or those with epilepsy. If everyone who has had heart trouble were to be denied a driver license, President Johnson, former President Eisenhower and many millions of other persons would be included. Cases of known collapse at the wheel are rare among persons with known heart ailments.

Before we go too far in deciding on required medical examinations, it would seem wise to determine just who would be denied the privilege of driving because of a physical ailment. There are few physically perfect persons, as demonstrated by the high percentage of military service rejections among young men. Measured against the good it might or might not do, the problem of deciding justly who should be denied the right to drive on account of physical condition would be tremendous and might be insurmountable.

Most people visit doctors much more frequently than once in five years. Many receive physical examinations once a year and some once every six months. For those who make such frequent visits, a mere certification of the subject's condition once in five years would serve as well as a special examination.

Always, in deciding on driving restrictions, there must be a balance between safety and reason. Always, officials must decide to whom they want to say: "You may want and need to drive a car, but we won't let you."

Bombarding Congress

Bombarding Congress, to try to persuade its members to take certain action or to dissuade it from taking certain action, is a paid profession at which 286 organizations worked in 1963. Figures on the number of groups plying this trade and on the sums they spent to try to influence Congress were given by Congressional Quarterly, a publication sponsored by a private research organization.

We sometimes wonder why Congressmen perform in strange ways and why some of them sometimes change their minds without any obvious reason. Of course, the same thoughts occur in regard to our state legislators. Lobbies try to influence them.

The groups referred to are known as lobbies and are required to register, give their purpose and reveal the sums they spend. Formerly, lobbies operated without restraint and without showing how much they spent, but an act of Congress now compels them to come out into the open with their objectives and expenditures, although in the matter of spending there may be some concealment. Amounts listed in 1963 totaled $4,191,482.

People in government and public service apparently were the most active and aggressive, even out-doing labor organizations in private industry. The United Federation of Postal Clerks, determined, at all odds, to get pay raises for its members put out $202,996 in its successful efforts.

The business community, represented by 153 groups, spent $1,521,000, while 36 employe and labor units spent $1,130,000. In this category, six postal groups, along with active and retired civil service people, were most active.

Those at the public feed trough demanded a full bin.

Not Without Pain

Many a motorist grumbles at the price of gasoline. It's gone steadily up, he thinks, and he may suspect that the oil companies are gouging him.

Well, like so many other more or less common beliefs, this is a misconception. Gasoline is one of the very few products in general which costs less now than it did some years ago. It's actually cheaper than distilled water.

If that is true, why must we pay more per gallon for it? The answer lies in one little word: taxes. Gasoline taxes, both state and federal, have been raised time and time again. The result is that when you pay $3 for a tank full of gas you're getting only $2 worth. The other dollar disappears into the tills of the tax collectors.

No other necessity — and few out and out luxuries — bear so heavy a sales tax. Yet in various states movements are afoot to add still another penny or so. And there are always efforts, some of which have been successful, to divert gasoline tax revenues from the purpose for which they are supposedly levied — that is, road building and maintenance.

The motorist is going to have to make his weight felt in no uncertain way if further inroads into his heavily depreciated dollar are to be blocked. And, on occasion, he has done just that. Last March, for instance, Wisconsin voters dealt with a proposal to raise that state's gas tax from six to seven cents per gallon in a referendum. Nearly a million people voted — and about 85 per cent said No.

It has been argued that the gas tax is "painless." Maybe that was true in the long ago, when it was very small. But there's plenty of pain in it now. The hope is that public sentiment will stop it from becoming still worse.

Three-Way Viet Nam Split

Division Big Problem For Johnson

AMBASSADOR MAXWELL Taylor's return for consultations brings to a potentially fateful showdown a three-way split among President Johnson's top level advisers on what should be done about the steadily deteriorating situation in South Viet Nam.

This wide divergence among key State Department and Pentagon authorities is largely responsible for the administration's erratic course in the Communist - periled Southeast Asian country. For the President, the sharply differing counsels confront him with making a decision on proposals ranging from undertaking immediate negotiations to come to terms with the Reds to a far-reaching escalation of this tortuous conflict, as follows:

Striking directly at Communist China, including bombing its nuclear installations deep in the interior.

Extending the war to North Viet Nam and Laos, with massive air and naval blows at Viet Cong depots, training camps and supply routes.

OFFERING to negotiate a settlement based on "neutralizing" South Viet Nam and withdrawing all U. S. military forces.

Principal advocates of these three varying policies are: For a direct confrontation with Red China — Secretary Rusk, Undersecretary Averell Harriman, Assistant Secretary William Bundy, and his brother McGeorge Bundy, special foreign affairs adviser to the President. McGeorge Bundy is the main leader of this group — which significantly, until recently, opposed expansion of the war, particularly to the Chinese mainland.

The drastic policy they now favor is a strikingly dramatic change in viewpoint.

Those urging that extension of the conflict be limited to destroying Viet Cong logistic bases in North Viet Nam and Laos include Ambassador Taylor, General William Westmoreland, commander of the U. S. forces in South Viet Nam, and members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Pressing for immediate settlement negotiations are Undersecretary George Ball, Assistant Secretary Harlan Cleveland, UN Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, and lower level State Department "specialists" who usually follow Stevenson's lead. He is the most active exponent of this "neutralization" policy, and in inner circles it is known as the "Stevenson formula."

WHAT THEY'RE TELLING L. B. J. — Crux of the position of the Bundy group to "denuclearize" Red China is summed up in the statement, at a White House discussion, "The only way to solve the Southeast Asia problem is to start where policy really begins, the capital in Peking."

This influential group holds that the U. S. should seek an alliance with Russia against Red China, on the theory that the former's interests require containment of the Chinese and halting the proliferation of nuclear weapons. The point is also stressed that the "Chin-Coms" are much further advanced in the development of such arms than originally estimated.

A re-evaluation of their recent test explosion confirms that they possess U-235, essential for the production of H-bombs.

The President has been told, "It's highly possible they may have a token number of nuclear weapons within a year. This threat is infinitely more serious than first realized."

This warning is particularly significant as the Bundy group initially minimized the Chinese atomic test.

Principal reason Ambassador Taylor and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, which he headed before going to South Viet Nam, are advising that expansion of the war be restricted to hitting the Viet Cong in North Viet Nam and Laos is that bombing Red China runs the grave risk of involving Russia.

It is contended that while the Communist rulers of Peking and the Kremlin are at apparent bitter loggerheads, close ties exist between the military leaders of the two countries. This could indicate that the rift between the party leaders is not as deep as might appear.

There is some evidence, the President has been told, that the Soviet actually furnished the atomic bomb tested by the Chinese.

General Westmoreland goes further than Ambassador Taylor in one regard.

THE U. S. COMMANDER in South Viet Nam wants the administration to back a bigger role for the South Viet Nam military in the Saigon government than urged by Taylor. Westmoreland holds the military is necessary for a strong government to offset civilian officials who are increasingly inclined to a neutralist policy.

Westmoreland also favors accepting the Philippine offer of 6,000 troops. Ambassador Taylor has been cool to that.

The so-called Stevenson group sees a completely civilian government as the best solution for the tortuous South Viet Nam dilemma. The argument is being vigorously made in inner White House councils, that such a regime could "properly" seek a negotiated settlement with the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam.

Such an accord would include the neutralization of South Viet Nam, and the withdrawal of all U. S. forces there.

In recent private discussions with congressional leaders, Secretary Rusk has stated, "There is no lack of contact with the Chinese communists. We are in constant touch with them."

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

Closing Of Bases Is Twice Ironic

WHERE WAS THE Republican Party when Secretary McNamara closed down those bases? About where many suspected it would be: opposing the shut-downs and for reasons transparently political. Governor Rockefeller, the leader of the left wing of the GOP, denounced the decision, and all who contributed to it, as anti-Brooklyn, and demands reconsideration; and Governor Scranton, leader of the moderate wing of the GOP, enjoins Pennsylvania's two senators and 27 congressmen to "join with the state administration in an all-out effort to reverse this calamitous decision by the Defense Department." And so the reigning sons of the free enterprise party choke with indignation at a decision by a Democratic Administration to consult the free enterprise system when deciding how to go about saving $500 million dollars of the taxpayers' money.

The situation is twice ironic. Ironic that Republicans should be cast in the role of objecting to the federal government's cutting down expenses, and ironic that a Democratic Administration should have taken the cost-cutting initiative in the first place. The philosophical disparity of the Republican liberals was never put in better focus. If it were suggestible, let alone provable, that the Secretary of Defense was playing politics with the national security, Governor Rockefeller's position might be understandable. But such is hardly thinkable—Brooklyn had already been tentatively doomed as inefficient, and now goes to its death even after the second most important Democrat in that land, Mr. Robert Kennedy, ran and was elected on a platform that struck many voters as reducing to "I can do most for the Brooklyn Navy Yard." No, galling though it is, true Republicans must put credit where it is due, to Mr. McNamara in this case — for a commendable insistence on doing the indicated things. If only x ships are now needed — fewer than the y ships that were needed yesterday — then y minus x worth of shipyards must close down. Which ones? The most inefficient ones, Q.E.D.

MR. McNAMARA'S behavior is all the more remarkable in the light of his obvious incongruity with prevalent Democratic doctrine. The Democratic Party is informally pledged to subsidizing inefficiency, as the alternative to accepting the discipline of the free market. We are paying seven or eight billion dollars to farmers to shield some of them from the marketplace. Tens of millions go to coal miners to guard them from economic reality. Ditto to protect some of our businessmen from foreign competition. Ditto to insulate hundreds of thousands from wages which, in the free market, would fall below the official minimum.

So that while we have here, in this mixed-up affair, a Democrat acting against Democratic practice, we have Republicans acting like the hottest well-farists in town. Neither Mr. Rockefeller nor Mr. Scranton has said a word, on the published record of their effusive protests, about why it is that their yards should have become so inefficient. Because to say what needs to be said is politically taboo. What happened is that the yards in question could not compete because labor unions had been exacting artificially high wages, and because bureaucratic and political impositions (remember, these are government-owned yards) impose extra burdens. The Republicans had an opportunity to react to Mr. McNamara's action not by saying I-told-you-so with any sense of satisfaction — (Republicans should join with Democrats in doing every thing in their power to care for the dispossessed workers until they are settled elsewhere) — but rather to say I-told-you-so in the sense of bringing home to the electorate the risks of phoneying up the cost of doing business in a free society (N.B. labor union leaders, and all politicians.)

Things For Home Are Wanted Most

IF YOU ARE a typical U.S. housewife, what you want most for Christmas in 1964 are things for your home — furniture, carpets, a refrigerator, dryer, TV set, kitchen appliances. For the first time in this decade, your most-wanted Christmas gift is not something for yourself.

If you are an average U.S. family, you'll buy 30 Christmas gifts this year and you'll buy from six to 16 for each of your children. Despite this indulgence to your young ones, you don't think you're giving too much and you have no plans to cut down.

If you're typical of housewives in the under-$10,000 income bracket and if you were asked, "If you could have anything in the world you wanted this Christmas, what would it be?" your answer most likely would be a new home. But if you're typical of housewives in the over-$10,000 bracket, your answer to this "dream" question most likely would be a trip or a cruise.

We are approaching the 25 golden days between Thanksgiving and Christmas — a period during which we'll spend an awesome $8.5 billion for gifts, according to the annual survey of the Tie-Tie division of Chicago Printed String Co., the nation's largest maker of gift wrappings. This averages out to $170 per family, an all-time record.

AMONG TIE-TIE'S other intriguing findings are:

You're in the majority of housewives if you received one big present last Christmas. In the under-$10,000 group the one big present was probably something for your house. In the over-$10,000 group, it was probably jewelry, clothing or plain money.

You're in the majority if you think you're frugal in your Christmas spending. A full 75 per cent of the women surveyed stated they did not spend too much for gifts in 1963.

You're in the majority if you do not feel the tax cut has given you more money to spend this season. Only 19 per cent said they felt this year's massive tax cut is putting money in the family purse. (This is a puzzler because, of course, the tax cut has boosted the take-home pay of tens of millions in income brackets from the lowest to the highest. Can it be that the extra money already is taken for granted?)

To me, though, what is most intriguing about this year's survey is the disclosure of a distinct switch in the housewife's wants — away from personal gifts and towards gifts for the home. In 1960 only one-quarter said they wanted something for their homes; this year the percentage is close to half. At the same time, the proportion wanting personal items has shriveled to 17 per cent.

Tie-Tie doesn't delve into any explanations, simply makes the colorful comment, "Mink, and all its companion glamour, has taken a sharp slide down the ladder of desire." But I think I can advance one major reason why.

MY EXPLANATION is that the shift primarily reflects the fact that we are back into a great new era of "replacement demand." Throughout the 1950s, we loaded up as never before with household goods of all types. We were filling demands pent up during World War II. We were furnishing the houses that we were building at an unprecedented pace. We were concentrating on becoming a nation of homeowners without parallel in our history. By the late 1950s, we were truly loaded — and the pace of our buying tapered, our demands shifted.

Now I can tell from what's going on in my own household how big a factor "replacement" is becoming.

The rugs bought more than a decade ago are worn and shabby; at the very least, the chairs and couches should be recovered; the kitchen needs glitzing a lot more than my ring finger does; the linen closet is turning into a prime source for clean rags; etc. etc.

As it is in my household, so it must be in established households across the land. As for the new wife, she always wants things for her home.

(Personal postscript to my own husband don't interpret this as an invitation to put a toaster under the tree. My guidance to you remains as always: when you think of me, THINK MINK!)

Congo Situation Wholly Changed, Kenyatta Says

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Premier Jomo Kenyatta, chairman of the Organization of African Unity (OAU) commission on the Congo, said Friday the perilous nature of recent events have created an entirely new situation in the Congo.

"Whether or not the Stanleyville (rebel) authorities still exist as a coherent force is unknown," he told an emergency meeting of the commission. "Whether or not they or other groups will continue to oppose the Leopoldville government in any organized sense and to a significant degree cannot be certain."

"It must, however, be presumed that opposition to the Tshombe government will arise again after a period of confusion by continuing foreign prompting or intervention."

"In view of all this it is apparent the situation existing in September is so disrupted that the mandate of this commission issued by the OAU is seriously jeopardized."

Kenyatta suggested the commission should consider whether the parent OAU body should be asked to review the mandate or whether attempts at reconciliation should start again.

Recounting the events before the paratroop drops in the Congo to save the white hostages, Kenyatta said: "I had emphasized to the governments concerned with the humanitarian issues that negotiations might be wholly nullified by further military intervention."

Rare Stamps Haven't Arrived

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The United States post office is missing $1 million worth of stamps.

The stamps, Confederate commemoratives, draw their value from the fact that they were not perforated during printing. The mistake raises the value of the sheet involved.

The display was due to go on exhibit here Friday at the annual show of the Memphis Stamp Collectors' Society.

"The Washington Philatelic Agency said the stamps were definitely sent by registered mail on Nov. 17," Memphis Postmaster Earl Moreland said Friday. But they haven't arrived here yet."

Moreland said he assumed postal officials in Washington were checking into the missing stamps. "All we can do is just keep looking and waiting, I guess," he added.

HELD HOSTAGES

Congo Refugees Safe At Home

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Clifford Schaub, haggard and seemingly dazed, came home with his family Friday, writing a happy page to the chapter of terror being etched in blood in the Congo.

Schaub, a missionary, his wife, Helen, and their sons, Tim, 8, and Mark, 6, were rescued by Belgian paratroops in Stanleyville last Tuesday at which time Congolese rebels slaughtered about 50 other foreign hostages. Upon his arrival at Greater Pittsburgh Airport, Schaub said he hadn't expected his family or himself to get out of the rebellion-racked African nation alive.

"I had given up," he said. "I had seen the planes (U.S. Air Force transports), but I hadn't seen the paratroops land."

The Schaub family of Marion Township in nearby Beaver County, were greeted at the airport by his mother and several other relatives in a scene of quiet joy and thankfulness. They had landed at New York earlier in the day.

As for the reason behind the shooting of the hostages, including Dr. Paul Carlson, a medical missionary from California, Schaub said, "They — the rebels — just panicked, I believe."

He said he and his family were separated when taken in the square where the hostages were placed by the rebels.

"Everyone ran," he said, when the rebels opened fire. "My wife took care of my family."

He also said he was separated from his wife and children for about 10 minutes after the shooting stopped. "I was about frantic with fear," he added. "I wouldn't leave for the airport until I found my family. Another man saw them and told me where they were."

Schaub, who works for the African Christian Mission in Cincinnati, Ohio, and has been to the Congo three times, blames defecting government troops for the downfall of Stanleyville.

"Those of us who were there didn't think Stanleyville would fall," he said.

Would he return to the Congo? "They would have to offer much more security," he said.

Police Warning Issued On Fad
A warning against the "fad of rolling houses" was issued Friday by West Monroe Police Chief Johnny B. Mitchell. The Post Office Department in Washington predicted that a record seven billion pieces of mail will move through the postal system during the peak rush just before Christmas.

In a joint statement the postmasters said, "The cooperation of all mailers is vital for us to deliver each holiday card, letter and package before Christmas Day. A little planning will make the Christmas rush less hectic for everyone."

In the Nov. 3 general election in Texas, who polled the most votes, President Johnson or Gov. John Connally?

President Johnson trailed Gov. Connally. Johnson received 1,663,185 and Connally got 1,887,137. As a sidelight, Sen. Ralph Yarborough trailed the other two top Democratic candidates with 1,463,958 votes.

Do the President and the governors of the 50 states have to pay income taxes? Yes, they do.

What would happen if President Johnson should die before inauguration?

Well, this is not specifically covered by law but it is assumed that Sen. Humphrey would be inaugurated as President. If the President should die before the Electoral College votes and officially elects him President, the Democratic National Committee would have to name his successor as the Democratic nominee — probably Humphrey. If he has already been elected by the Electoral College at the time of his death, then he is President-elect and Humphrey would be Vice President-elect and would, it is assumed, succeed to the presidency. This, however, is a very tricky and complicated procedure and some speculation as to its strict legality has arisen since the election on Nov. 3.

I own a $1,000 (face value) Series E savings bond purchased in June, 1942. Can you tell me what this bond is worth and is it continuing to draw interest?

According to the U. S. Treasury Department, in December, 1964, your bond will be worth $1,500 — exactly twice what it cost you. Under present regulations, it will continue to earn interest until June, 1972, when its value will be $1,981.60.

What part in British government and operation of Parliament does the House of Lords play?

The British embassy in Washington, D. C., says:

"The House of Lords, with some 900 members, consists of:

"Lords Temporal subdivided into hereditary peers and peers, all life peers and peers and up to nine Lords of Appeal in Ordinary (Law Lords) who are appointed to assist the House in the performance of its judicial duties.

"Lords Spiritual who are the Archbishops of Canterbury and York and 24 senior clerics of the Church of England.

"Temporal peers (both hereditary and life) are conferred by the Sovereign (the queen) on the advice of the prime minister, in some cases after consultation with the leader of the opposition party.

"Peers in constant attendance at the House of Lords are generally elder statesmen and others who have spent their lives in public service. Although the majority of the 90 or so officeholders in the government are members of the House of Commons, it is usual for some 20 of them, including maybe three or four of the 20-odd cabinet members, to be in the House of Lords.

"Since the Parliament Act of 1911, the Lords' powers have been greatly diminished. At the present time, the Lords may not alter a financial measure nor may they delay for longer than one year any bill passed by the Commons in two successive sessions. These restrictions are based on the belief that the chief value of the upper house lies, not in thwarting the elected House, but in bringing the wide experience of its members into the legislative process.

"The House of Lords has important legal functions in addition to its parliamentary deliberations. It is the final court of appeal for civil cases in the whole of the United Kingdom and for criminal cases in England, Wales and Northern Ireland. Judicial business is conducted by a court drawn from the Lord Chancellor the Law Lords and other peers who have held high judicial office."

A firm named the Calumet Herb Company was located in South Holland, Ill. back in 1922. Could you tell me if there is still a company by that name in operation there?

A check of national firm listings and several other sources at the Quachita Parish Public Library revealed no record of this company at the present time. It may be so small that it is not listed, it may have changed names or it may have gone out of business. South Holland is a town of about 10,000 population located in Cook County, which may or may not have a Chamber of Commerce. We suggest that you write the city officials of South Holland with your request, and they could probably supply more information.

Why can't property owners be forced to tie in to sewerage lines when the lines have been laid? I have two small children and they play outside a lot. My neighbor will not tie in to the sewerage line and he has a line running from his septic tank to my ditch, filling it with foul-smelling sewage.

Vernon C. Parker, regional engineer with the State Department of Health in Monroe, said that he would need to know where you live to fully answer the question. However, he suggests that you contact your local health unit whenever such conditions exist. He explained that there are places where there are no public or community facilities for sewage.

Quoting the State Sanitary Code, paragraph 10.4, Parker said state law requires: "Where there is an established sewerage system and ample water supply, all toilet, bath, laundry, kitchen and other plumbing fixtures located on any premise within 300 feet of a sewer main shall be connected therewith, provided that the property owner is legally entitled to such a connection."

Concerning the disposal of sewage, paragraph 10.5 of the state code, states: "The contents or effluent from any water closet, sink, lavatory, bath tub, shower drain, kitchen fixture, laundry fixture, vault, privy, leaching pit, chemical toilet or septic tank shall not be discharged directly or indirectly into any street, gutter, ditch, water course, body of water or onto any surface of the ground except as may be approved in writing by the State Health officer or his duly authorized representative."

Could you tell me what pet iguanas eat? Also, what should I use on the floor of the cage?

A pet shop recommends that they be fed wet lettuce leaves or bananas. They also will eat some small insects, though they are chiefly vegetarians. Sand is used by the pet store to cover the bottom of the cages. Iguanas like moisture, and it is wise to wet their food and to have a small container of water in the cage.

What is the Negro population of Chicago?

The Urban League gives the population as about 900,000.

What First Lady was the youngest bride? What First Lady was the oldest bride?

And who had the most children among first ladies? Eliza McCordle Johnson was only 16 years old when she married Andrew Johnson who later became the 17th president of the United States. Edith Bolling Wilson was a 43-year-old widow when she became the second wife of President Woodrow Wilson in 1915. The woman with the most children was Anna Symmes Harrison who had 10. She also lived the longest of first ladies (89) and was the grandmother of Benjamin Harrison, 23rd U.S. president.

In reviewing my government life insurance policy, I find no record of who is supposed to get the insurance should I die. How do I find out who is named as the beneficiary?

Your original designation of beneficiary is on file in the office where your insurance premiums are paid. You can bring your beneficiary designation up to date by executing a new designation form. The form can be picked up at any VA office.

I have lost my original discharge and was told by a friend I must have the original for VA home loan guaranty purposes. Is this true?

VA would like to have the original. But if it has been lost, they will accept a certified copy.

Flight Engineer In Italian Crash Dies Of Injuries

ROME (UPI)—Howard W. Lowery, 45, of Levittown, N.Y., flight engineer aboard the Trans World Airlines jet which crashed Monday at Rome's Fiumicino Airport, died Friday of injuries. His death brought the toll to 48.

Reliable sources reported Italy's state prosecutor, Pietro Manca, would press criminal charges against persons responsible for the crash. As yet, responsibility has not been determined.

The TWA Boeing 707 faltered on takeoff and skidded into a steamroller only 24 feet off the runway when pilot Capt. Vernon Lowell, 44, of Old Westbury, N.Y., tried to brake it to a halt. The plane exploded in flames.

U.S. Relations With Hungary Nearly Settled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department confirmed Friday that talks with Hungary pointed toward normalizing relations with that Iron Curtain country are expected to be resumed soon.

These discussions, however, do not represent anything new, officials said, but are a continuation of on-again, off-again talks which actually started in the early 1960s.

The issue came up at the State Department's daily press briefing when press officer Robert McCloskey was asked to comment on a published dispatch from Budapest which said the United States and Hungary are now prepared to negotiate diplomatic reconciliation.

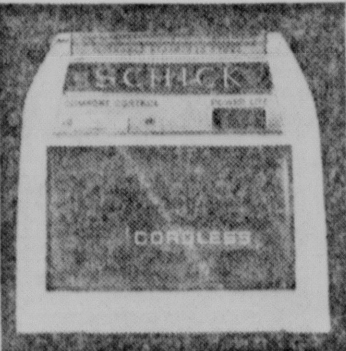

"In the past several years we had discussions with the Hungarian government on outstanding problems," McCloskey replied.

"We expect to move ahead with the talks in an effort to resolve these outstanding problems in our bilateral relations." The spokesman said Frank G. Siscoe, director of the department's East-West exchange office, will arrive in Budapest on Nov. 29 "to discuss exchange programs."

Other officials said Siscoe is touring the whole area and that his talks with the Communist authorities in Budapest will be restricted to possible new cultural links between the two nations. It is reported he will discuss the possibility of greater distribution of American newspapers and magazines in Hungary.

In addition to Siscoe's mission, McCloskey said, "we further expect in the next several months to discuss the claims of American nationals and related financial matters." The settling of such claims is regarded in Washington as pre-condition of further talks which could end in complete normalization of relations, strained since 1956 when Soviet troops crushed a national uprising.

IN RIGHTS SLAYING CASE

Sheriff Rainey Wonders Why No Arrests Yet

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — If the FBI knows who killed three civil rights workers last June, why doesn't it make arrests? asked Sheriff Lawrence Rainey on Friday.

The FBI announced Wednesday it knew the identities of the murderers but lacked sufficient evidence to obtain a conviction. "People wonder if they (the FBI) knew, why they haven't done something," Rainey said in an interview. "About all we know is what we saw in the paper."

Relations have not been cordial between the sheriff and the FBI since three civil rights workers — two whites and a Negro — disappeared in this central Mississippi town last June.

Their bodies were found buried beneath a newly made earthen dam two months later. They had been shot to death with a .38-caliber pistol. A private autopsy report said the Negro had been badly beaten.

Rainey said the FBI cooperated with him early in the investigation, then cooled toward him as time went on.

"They never have even given me the size of the bullets that were in the bodies," the sheriff said.

About all the FBI agents do here now is watch after civil rights workers who have flocked to Philadelphia in the wake of the slayings, Rainey added.

If the sheriff was critical of the FBI, the FBI appeared to have little enthusiasm for him.

"Around Philadelphia, Miss., law enforcement is practically nil and many times sheriffs and deputies participate in crime," said FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover last week.

Colorful Mayor Given Best Rites

NEW YORK (UPI) — The city said goodbye Friday to one of its most colorful mayors—William O'Dwyer who resigned his post to become ambassador of Mexico. He died Tuesday of a heart attack.

A solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Then his body was taken to Washington for burial in Arlington National Cemetery. O'Dwyer, who was 74 when he died, had served as a brigadier general during World War II as head of the War Production Board.

white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from near-by Meridian — came here to investigate the burning of a rural Negro church and the beating of the church elders.

They disappeared June 21, touching off a massive search in which the White House took a personal interest. Their bodies were found Aug. 4 about 20 feet from the top of the red clay watershed dam.

There were widespread rumors — never confirmed nor denied — that a tipster was paid a reward for information leading the FBI to the bodies.

"Nobody around here knows who got it — the reward — if they did," Sheriff Rainey said. Rainey was quizzed repeatedly by the FBI in the months that followed the slayings. At one point, he refused to answer further questions. "If you want to talk to me get a warrant," he told agents.

The Justice Department presented evidence gathered in the case to a federal grand jury at Biloxi last month. After hearing Rainey and a score of others from here, the grand jury recessed without taking any action in the case.

Rainey and his deputy, Cecil Price, were indicted on a charge of violating a Negro man's civil rights by beating him two years ago. That charge is pending.

Hearing Is Set At Hamburg For Murder Suspect

HAMBURG, Ark. (Special)—A hearing will be held Monday at Hamburg for James Williams, accused of the murder of Mrs. Thomas Degges near Crossett on Sept. 24. A trial date will be set at the hearing.

Williams, who was arrested Oct. 15 following the kidnapping and slaying of Mrs. Degges, has been declared legally sane after tests and observation at the Arkansas State Hospital.

Mrs. Degges, the mother of three children, was taken from her rural home about five miles east of Crossett in September. Williams was questioned about the murder, but released because of lack of evidence. However, later he was arrested near Crossett on new developments in the case.

He is being held in a jail outside Ashley County and will be brought to Hamburg Monday for arraignment.

DAR To Seek Preservation Of Old Building

A local group has adopted as a project the preservation and repair of West Monroe's former city hall at Trenton and Pine Streets.

Mrs. H. M. McGuire, regent of the Chief Tusquahoma Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution, said a petition will be drafted and circulated asking the city to repair and preserve the building.

The facility, deemed structurally sound but with a leaking roof, is used now as office space for the city's water and street departments. Only the first floor is used.

Aldermen have given consideration to roof repair, though no action has been taken. Also considered at one time was razing of the building's upper section and the reduction to one story.

Appointed to a petition committee were Mrs. W. G. Haynes Jr., Mrs. J. A. Rainbolt, Mrs. J. B. Landreaux, Mrs. D. O. Golsen and Mrs. J. M. Bell.

Monroe, Ruston Tests Scheduled By Peace Corps

Next nationwide Peace Corps placement test will be held Monday, Dec. 7, marking the first time in the organization's history that the examination will be given on a week day.

In northeast Louisiana, the test will be administered in Monroe, room 202, Post Office; and Ruston, basement, Post Office.

Any American citizen over 18 is eligible to take the test. If married, applicants' spouses also must apply, but no couple with children under 18 can be accepted. College degrees are not required.

Taking the test will consume approximately one and one-half hours. It will be a non-competitive aptitude examination. Completed Peace Corps questionnaires should be brought if they have not already been filed.

The test usually is given the second Saturday of the month, but is being moved to Monday because of the Christmas rush at post offices.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. ## LOCAL SENSATION

Soviet Girls Tried In Kangaroo Court

MOSCOW (AP)—A Moscow paper derided Young Communist League leaders in South Sakhalin who staged a kangaroo court trial of two young women on charges of immoral behavior and depravity.

A Komsomolskaya Pravda report Friday from the barren far eastern district said the pub-lie humiliation of the two girls had caused a local sensation.

The Soviet Youth paper gave this account:

The two girls, Larisa, 24, and Lyuba, 23, scandalized their neighbors with their free and easy relationships with local males.

The local secretary, A. Kayurov, decided to make an example of them. He spent two weeks collecting purported evidence for a "court of honor."

The informal trial was publicized in advance by advertisements on radio and television, in papers and leaflets.

On the day of the big trial, the local Palace of Culture was jammed with curious spectators. The two girls sat in a make-shift dock with Larisa's mother and her 5-year-old son surrounded by film and news photographers.

"At times the affair turned into a complete farce," the report went on. "They asked Larisa to tell whether anyone had ever conducted any educational work with her."

"The reply took an unexpected turn. Yes, somehow one person did come to her and strike up a soul-saving conversation—but later took her to his apartment. This was the city judge," Larisa declared. "Everyone was stupefied."

The paper mercilessly ridiculed Kayurov as a petty tyrant and brute. It said he also was the initiator of a school children's vigilante movement "for the control of esthetics of face, hands and feet."

"Detachments made outrageous raids on groups of students. If a girl's lips were painted, they took her to the washroom to scrub it off."

"If they found artificial lashes, they tore them off. An improper hairdo, they forced her to change it."

The article also cited the example of a school in which a pupils' "secret intelligence or vigilance" organization operated.

"How can it be that the teachers could include in the arsenal of educational measures spy mania, denunciations, and slander?" it said.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

UNDUE CONCERN ABOUT HEALTH

The hypochondriac thrives on poor health. His preoccupation with bodily symptoms is so great he cannot think clearly or work satisfactorily. Most of his interpretations and fears are exaggerated but nothing can be done to convince him he is free from disease, even when confronted with firm evidence.

The term was coined more than a century ago to describe abdominal symptoms of nervous origin. A typical example is the 54-year-old bachelor who for years, complained of fullness, belching, and nausea after meals. He had been X-rayed umpteenth times. On three occasions physicians looked into his stomach with a gastroscope. The answer always was the same—Normal stomach.

He wanted more X-rays, and when I suggested a psychiatrist instead, he walked out of the office. I understand he went to a large clinic where X-rays were negative. When he refused to accept this opinion, the clinic staff said they could open the stomach under a local anesthetic and let him look for himself (with mirrors). He left them in a huff.

Concern about illness is related to our basic desire to preserve life. Some authorities believe maladjustment to the environment is responsible for hypochondriasis. The victim converts his worries into bodily symptoms. They may originate in any part of the body and simulate almost any organic disease. Distress is bizarre and inconsistent. Some victims are restless, irritable, nervous, and poor sleepers; others are depressed.

A hypochondriac is difficult to treat because he uses the condition as a defense measure to bolster his self-esteem and explain his shortcomings as a worker. He rarely has the insight to realize his symptoms are of emotional origin. If this could be developed, the victim would shed his minor aches and pains or not worry too much about them when his physician assures him there is no organic disease.

BLAND DIET

L. G. S. writes: I am supposed to be on a low residue diet because of a hiatus hernia. I don't know what foods I can eat and what I am to eliminate. Would you send me such a list?

REPLY: We have a bland diet in the mail for you and will be glad to do the same for others, provided they send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

HEART CONTRACTIONS

L. W. writes: What causes a higher pulse rate in the neck than in the wrist?

REPLY: An error in counting. In auricular fibrillation, many of the contractions of the heart are not felt as pulse beats at the wrist. The physician listens with the stethoscope over the heart and may record 120 beats whereas only 80 are counted at the wrist.

THYROID TESTS

D. S. writes: A metabolism test I took gave normal results. But a PBI shows at thyroid deficiency. Which test is more accurate?

REPLY: The PBI, provided it was done properly.

SPINAL CYST AND JUDO

R. H. writes: Would it be dangerous for a 23-year-old girl with a pilonidal cyst to take up judo?

REPLY: Yes, because any blow or injury to the lower spine may cause the cyst to act up.

Traffic Light To Be Installed At Intersection

The Louisiana Department of Highways will install a traffic control light at the intersection of South Second Street and Texas Avenue, according to the Monroe police department.

Assistant Police Chief Sidney Martin said the police department has in the past been heavily questioned on the feasibility of a light there. An earlier survey by the state department of highways at the request of traffic control manager Maj. George Whitlow of Monroe showed the volume of traffic crossing the wide intersection on Second Street did not warrant a light.

A new and recent survey however indicated the volume of traffic had increased and that a light needed to be installed.

A letter from E. J. James, assistant director of the state highway department, also said a light would be installed at N. 5th and Pine Streets in the near future.

Orleans Prince To Wed Bourbon Legion Barbecue Set For Tonight

PARIS (AP)—The Count of Paris, pretender to the nonexistent French throne, Friday announced the engagement of his daughter Anne de France to Prince Carlos de Bourbon.

Anne, 25, is one of five children of the Count and Countess of Paris, whose claim to the throne dates back to the House of Orleans.

Swiss-born Prince Carlos, 26, is the son of the late Prince Alphonse of Spain, who died early this year, and Princess Alice de Bourbon-Parma.

His family line runs back to French King Louis XIV. No date for the marriage was announced.

Inaugural Invite

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Hale Boggs, wife of Rep. Boggs, D-La., has been named a co-chairman for President Johnson's inaugural ball Jan. 20.

It will be the second successive inaugural in which Mrs. Boggs will serve in this capacity. Both Rep. and Mrs. Boggs were active in support of President Johnson in this year's election campaign.

Request Probe

BATON ROUGE (AP)—President Charles W. Cox of the United Contractors Association said letters to the governor and state labor department officials called Friday for an impartial probe of state labor apprenticeship laws.

Cox, of Baton Rouge, said the letters also were sent to legislators, contending present application of the laws is discriminatory and detrimental to the state's industrial expansion program.

The association sent copies of its resolution, Cox said, which stressed these points:

—The apprenticeship program in this state "is engaged in discrimination and restraint of trade, which is not in the best interests of the citizens of Louisiana."

—Policies of the local joint apprenticeship committees prevent inducting members of District 50, United Mine Workers members, resulting in the inability of union members not affiliated with the AFL-CIO to bid on certain types of construction work.

Cox said among other things bid specifications for construction of the Rubicon nuclear installation at Geismar call for AFL-CIO union workers.

The association asked Rubicon to remove restriction against any other unions.

Auto Accidents Keep Twin City Officers Busy

Twin City law enforcement action Friday was confined mostly to the investigation of minor automobile accidents caused partially by heavy rainfall and poor visibility.

Monroe police investigated nine accidents with one minor injury while West Monroe officials reported two accidents and no injuries.

Mary T. Canterbury, 26, 606 Crosley St., West Monroe, was treated at Glenwood Hospital for injuries received in a two-car accident on Jackson Street in Monroe. According to police, the Canterbury car was stopped when a car driven by Anna McWilliams, 1108 Lewis St., Ruston, turned on Jackson from Harrison Street and slammed into the rear of her car.

The McWilliams woman was ticketed for following too close.

In other police action, Joe Childress, 30, whose address was given as room 200, River-view Apts., Monroe, was booked for felony theft in connection with the theft of about $60 in cash from the apartment building on November 11.

Police said Childress had been out of town since the theft occurred but had been wanted in connection with the crime.

Monroe police booked Lottie Mae Nicholson, 41, 202-B S. 6th St., for aggravated battery after her arrest at 3:40 a.m. Friday.

West Monroe police reported two persons booked for driving while under the influence of an intoxicating beverage.

Hazel Love, 18, 107 Pelican Dr., West Monroe, was booked for DWI and using a revoked driver's license after she was arrested early Friday morning on Cypress Street.

Woodrow W. Steely, 23, Rt. 3, Ruston, was booked on a DWI charge after he was arrested at 8:45 p.m. on Cypress St.

Africans Select U. N. Candidate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The African group of 33 U.N. delegations unanimously chose Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana on Friday night as Africa's candidate for president of the General Assembly session opening Tuesday.

The action assured Quaison-Sackey's election since this is Africa's turn in the U.N. presidency.

Quaison-Sackey's rivals, Omar Abdel Hamid Adeel of Sudan and Nathan Barnes of Liberia, withdrew from the contest.

Woman Killed

BAKER, La. (AP)—One person was killed and another injured in a car-truck collision between here and Zachary Friday.

State police identified the victim as Estelle Banks, 29-year-old Zachary Negro, who was in the car.

Thomas Bogie, 18, the truck driver, was hospitalized.

Track Burglary

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Burglars stole $4,900 from the safe of a caterer at the Fair Grounds Race Track early Friday.

The safe was in the office of Turf Caterers which handles food concessions for many major tracks. Police said the safe bore no signs of forced entry and there apparently were no broken windows or jimmied doors in the firm's office.

The New Orleans track began its 92nd season Thursday.

Bruner Named Representative

Rich A. Bruner of Monroe Friday was named state representative at the Southern Business Education Association's 42nd annual convention held in Lexington, Ky.

Elizabeth O'Dell of Columbia, S.C., was elected president of the association, and Richard D. Clanton of Baton Rouge, first vice president.

House Defeated Censure Motion

OTTAWA (UPI)—A motion of censure against Justice Minister Guy Favreau was defeated Friday in the House of Commons. The vote was 111-30.

The motion, proposed by conservative MP Erik Nielsen, was opposed by the combined strength of the Liberal, New Democrat, Creditiste and Social Credit parties.

Nielsen accused Favreau of a "singular lack of understanding" of his portfolio. He claimed "law, good order and justice in this country have been dragged in the mire" by the minister's actions in connection with charges of corruption in the government and Favreau's handling of the Hal Banks Affair.

TUCON, Ariz. (AP)—The top two seeds, Chuck McKinley and Rafael Osuna, were beaten Friday in the Tucson Racquet Club's invitational tennis tournament.

McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., seeded first and ranked as the nation's top male player, was beaten by Tom Edelfsen, a University of Southern California junior, 10-8, 6-3.

Osuna, of Mexico, the defending champion and No. 2 seed, was ousted by Roger Werksman of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-2.

In other quarter-final matches, Arthur Ashe of UCLA downed college mate Ian Crookenden 6-3, 6-3, and USC's Dennis Ralston dumped Charles Pasarell of UCLA 6-3, 6-3.

Saturday, Ashe will face Edelfsen and Werksman will meet Ralston.

Army Without

'Ablebodied'

Men For Tilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Favored Navy seeks an unprecedented sixth straight victory over Army's "slim 17" in the 65th service football clash Saturday, when the emphasis will be on sophomores, Roger Staubach and defense.

Army, with a shortage of ablebodied men but eager to avenge the '63 game when the clock left the frustrated Cadets two yards shy of an upset and the Middies in front 21-15, issues this terse communique: "Expect the unexpected."

The Cadets are down to "a team and a half"—the slim 17. The Midshipmen have their streak as an incentive for the 1:30 p.m. EST battle before 100,000 fans at John F. Kennedy Stadium and a national television audience.

There is a feeling honor and pride are at stake for West Point. Coach Paul Dietzel says the difference from a year ago is that "the attitude is one of confidence instead of apprehension this time."

Neither squad is encumbered by thoughts of rankings, bowls or winning records, all of which are far beyond reach.

When Navy's Wayne Hardin started his victory parade through Army ranks back in 1959, he took a calculated risk. He shuffled his backfield personnel in order to get his best and most experienced players on defense. The results was the highest Navy score in the series, 43-12.

Even Hardin was surprised. It worked once so why not again? Off-injured fullback Pat Donnelly—Navy's best ball carrier and a three-touchdown scorer a year ago—is finally ready to play again. So is top pass receiver Skip Orr.

Hardin has assigned both strictly to defensive duty, mindful the Middies have surrendered at least 14 points in each of the last seven starts.

Quarterback Roger Staubach, All-America and Heisman Trophy winner in '63, is back in peak form also. His offensive backfield mates now become sophomores Danny Wong, Calvin Huey and Tom Leiser.

"Defensive weaknesses have hurt us all year," explained Hardin. "You can get killed with one inexperienced back."

In a game billed as a duel of standout senior quarterbacks between Staubach and Army's Rolfe Stichweh, the slick Navy field general can go full tilt again after being handicapped by a leg injury in the first six games, one of which he missed completely.

"It's a crime that Roger got hurt and couldn't show more people how he performed last year," Hardin says. "I'd like to see him go out in the fashion he so justly deserves—with a winning performance against Army."

Even with handicaps, Staubach has 1,046 yards in total offense this year and a varsity career figure of 4,165 to take into his finale.

Stichweh, hero of the bid which just missed a year ago, has set an Army's season's total offense mark, too. Dietzel considers the two players have taken turns outshining each other in the classic with the rubber game coming up.

Injuries have forced the Cadets to shrink their substitution thoughts from three units to two platoons their team and a half.

Stichweh, tackle Bill Zadel, guards Pete Braun and Charles Stowers and wingback Johnny Johnson will have to play both ways. Army will platoon at the other six positions. Dietzel has a squad of 35 for the game, doubts more than 25 will see any action and figures the biggest load must be carried by the slim 17.

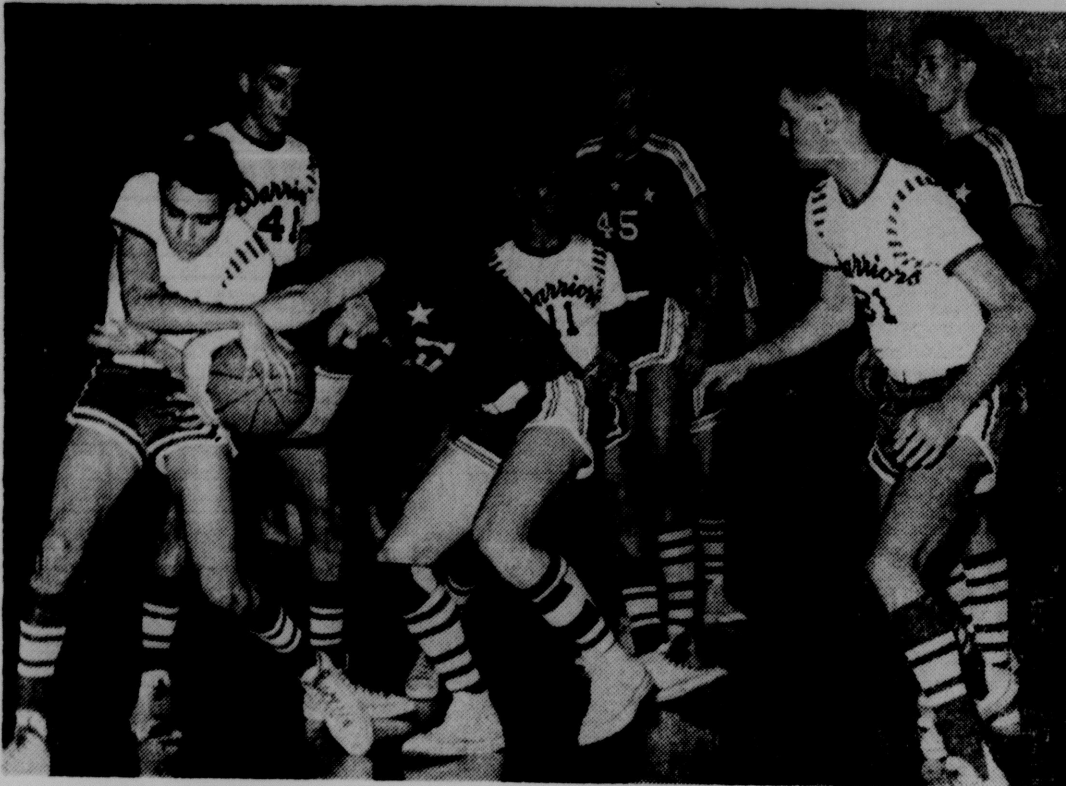

The Cadets hint at possibly some offensive surprises.

"Everyone expects a battle of great quarterbacks—and rightly so," says Dietzel. "But sometimes it's a relatively unknown player, the one least expected to do so, who has a major share in getting the job done. It's always a possibility in this game. It's happened often before."

Such a surprise may come from reserve quarterback Fred Barofsky, split end Greg Steele up from the 150-pound team or even kicking specialist Al Gimani, recruited from the Corps.

As the visitor in the game, the Corps of Cadets is scheduled to march onto the field, 2,400 strong, at 12 noon. The 3,800-man Brigade of Midshipmen will follow.

In the fourth World Series game Yankee left fielder Tom Tresh struck out three times in succession.

West Monroe had four men in double figures, but James Futrell, the all-star at Calhoun, was the high scorer of the night with 33 points, mostly in the second half.

MINDEN SIDETRACKED

Mize Touchdown Brings J-H Win

JONESBORO (Special) — A new champion will rule the Louisiana double-A football ranks this year. This was assured Friday night when the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers sidetracked the Minden Crimson Tide, defending state champs, 7-0, in their bi-district battle here.

Coach Bobby Stone's district 2-AA champs from Jonesboro-Hodge High School grabbed by the J-H land defense, went to the air some in a bid to pull the game out of the fire and completed five of 11 throws, but the air attack was not effective enough to prove damaging.

Minden's big threat in the third quarter saw the Tide hammer to the J-H three with a 30-yard pass, Mike Holliday to Jimmy Allison carrying to the 15 as the big play in the series.

But with second down at the three, J-H tackle David Tumlin tackled so viciously the runner fumbled the ball, and Leroy Ashley recovered for the Tigers to stop the drive. Minden never seriously threatened again.

Tumlin was especially effective in the J-H defense, and tackle Robert Harper turned in an all-around good line game for the winners. Guard Aubrey Futrell stood out offensively leading the interference in opening holes up the middle for Mize drives.

Minden's defensive standout was Ronald Woods, and fullback Stan Green was the offensive star.

The victory sends the Jackson parish Tigers, who were runners-up to Minden for the state championship a year ago, into the state quarter-finals against the Eunice-Leesville playoff.

Jonesboro-Hodge will be traveling for the game next Friday night.

Dragon fullback Billy White got the Mangham first quarter score on a three yard run and he then added the point after by running.

In the second frame, Sicily Island's highly touted Arnold Ready returned a punt 75 yards for a score. End Dallas Batey fell on a fumbled ball in the end zone for the PAT.

Butkus Denies

Contract Offer

From AFL Jets

CHICAGO (AP) — Dick Butkus, highly-touted University of Illinois linebacker, denied Friday he was approached by the New York Jets in an alleged sneak draft by the American Football League.

Butkus said: "As far as I'm concerned it's all a pack of lies."

Both the AFL and rival National Football League will hold their regularly-scheduled player drafts in New York Saturday.

Butkus said he would be happy when both drafts are completed. "I'll feel a lot better when I know what I'll have to do," the 250-pound All America said.

"I have no preference as far as the leagues go, or as far as cities are concerned. I'd just like to play with a team that has a chance to be a winner. Being with a winner is very important to me, almost as important as money."

Butkus' pro negotiating will be handled by a Chicago attorney.

Boston Patriots

Meet Houston;

Chasing Buffalo

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Patriots left for Houston Friday to do battle with the Oilers, still hoping they have a chance of catching Buffalo, the American Football League's Eastern Division leader.

Coach Mike Holovak admitted that the Patriots have their back against the wall but "the Eastern race isn't over yet."

Holovak said "you never can tell what will happen in a football game, particularly in this league. Either Oakland or Denver could come up with a winning effort against the Bills. I still feel we'll finish on top if we win our three remaining games."

The Patriots are two games down on Buffalo, pending the outcome of Sunday's battle with the Oilers. They still have one game left with the Bills but someone else must tie or beat Buffalo to keep Boston in the race.

Another Franchise

MILWAUKEE (AP) — An organization of prominent Milwaukeeans has been formed to secure a permanent major league baseball franchise for the city, it was announced Friday.

The National League has given the Braves permission to move their franchise from Milwaukee to Atlanta in 1966.

AGAINST TROJANS

Stakes Are High For Notre Dame

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The stakes are high and Notre Dame remains favored as the Irish and Southern California's Trojans meet for the 36th time Saturday in Memorial Coliseum.

Quarterback John Huarte and his big troops from South Bend shoot for the national collegiate championship, their 10th straight triumph and the first perfect season for the school since 1949.

The Trojans have won six and lost three but have a chance to go to the Rose Bowl if they can bowl over the Fighting Irish.

Coach John McKay's Trojans play a well-balanced, usually exciting offense built around quarterback Craig Fertig, who can run and pass, and halfback Mike Garrett, a durable 178-pounder who is the leading running back on the team.

Whether its offense can penetrate the heavier Notre Dame defense, which ranks first in the nation, poses quite a problem for Southern Cal.

This defense, which averages 221 pounds up front, 11 more than Southern Cal's, has held opponents' rushing to a meager 61.3 yards per game.

Still recalled, too, is the observation of Coach Bill Barnes after his UCLA Bruins lost to the Irish earlier this season, 24-0.

"Notre Dame isn't flashy. They just kill you."

The Irish, revitalized in the new regime of Coach Ara Paraghi, call this their "miracle season."

It is an apt description. Winner of only two of nine games last season, Notre Dame has marched over Wisconsin, Purdue, Air Force, UCLA, Stanford, Navy, Pitt, Michigan State and Iowa.

Southern Cal won over Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas A&M, California, Stanford and UCLA. The losses were to Michigan State, Ohio State and Washington.

In fairness to the Trojans, although McKay declines to dwell on the matter, eight players counted on as regulars have been lost in the course of the season, and two of them even before the formal firing began.

The Notre Dame-USC series began in 1926 during the coaching days of two great coaches, Knute Rockne and Howard Jones. Over the years it has been a national attraction, even in years when one or the other, or both, were having hard times.

Saturday's game is expected to draw some 90,000.

Gold Medalists Will Be Guests In White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. Olympic gold medal winners will be guests of President Johnson at a luncheon at the White House next Tuesday.

Engraved invitations have been sent to all Americans who won championships at the games last month in Tokyo.

The President said he wished to "personally express to them the happiness of a proud and grateful nation."

In a brief statement televised at the White House studio Nov. 23, Mr. Johnson praised the U. S. Olympic athletes as goodwill ambassadors of the country, and added:

"Healthy competition can be a spur to bring out the best in all of us, and international understanding that leads to peace is possible even in the presently troubled world."

World Champion Keeps Crown In Bantamweight

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — World bantamweight champion Eder Jofre of Brazil retained his title Friday night by knocking out Bernardo Caraballo of Colombia in the seventh round of their scheduled 15-round fight.

Each weighed 117 1/2 lbs. Jofre, making his seventh defense of the crown he earned in 1961, won his 46th victory in 49 bouts. He drew in the other three.

The knockout was the 36th for Jofre, one of the best fighters in the world pound-for-pound.

Texas A&M hasn't been made the pre-season title favorite in 1964, and the Aggies finished fifth that year.

TWO CAGE TIGERS

Neville Hosts Jonesboro In Grudge Battle Tonight

Coach Benny Hollis' Tigers, fresh from an opening season victory over Harrisonburg, 81-51, host the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers in a grudge match at the Neville Gymnasium with tip-off at 8:00 tonight.

The game will be preceded by a junior-varsity contest beginning at 6:30.

The meeting will be the seventh in three years for the two Tiger quintets with the six previous games being split, three to three, and the first since the Monroe team moved to 1-AAA. Jonesboro won three of four meetings from the local club last year, the last two being the district 2-AA and state championship games.

Neville will go with the same starting lineup as it did against Harrisonburg in the opener, with the exception of Bill Dunn at guard.

Dunn was scheduled to start in the first game, but came down with a virus and was forced to miss it.

Other starters for the Tigers will be J. Dodd Brooks, 6-4 low post man who scored 24 points Tuesday, Jay Eppinette and Bob Rowan at forwards, and David Barker, the high post man. Others expected to see action are Johnny Clay, Mack Marsh, Ronnie Davidson, and Charles Floyd.

Coach Hollis said of the opening tilt, "We were real pleased, it was a good first game effort. Our shooting was real good, and defense was above average for an opening tilt."

And how right he was, besides Brooks getting 24, Eppinette had 20, and Baker 13.

On defense, the Tigers held Harrisonburg to a mere 20 points in the first half while racking up 42 and only 31 in the second and hitting 39.

Jonesboro-Hodge is well into its season, starting two weeks ago and thus far have a 3-1 slate.

Leading the visiting Tiger crew will be Billy Phillips, Donald Stewart, Charles Horn, and Bill Robinson.

Phillips, a 6-3 guard, is the only returning starter for J.H. winning the AA crown in Coach Larry Toms first season.

Stewart, also 6-3, is up from the junior varsity while Horn transferred from Ruston.

"Jonesboro has a real fine team, and we think it will be a tough game," Hollis added.

The doors will open at 6:00 with the B game to follow later.

Leading the Neville junior varsity squad will be Lance Dreyer, Chris Turner, Johnny Overton, Jimmy Higgenbotham, and Harry Smith.

The B team was also successful in its opening game by tripping the Harrisonburg jvs, 50-35.

Following the contest, Neville enters district competition against Byrd in Shreveport, Tuesday night, Dec. 1.

The game was originally scheduled for Friday night, but the visiting school's football team played a bi-district game against Minden, necessitating the re-scheduling of the cage battle.

AFL, NFL Ready For Draft Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Both the National Football League and the American Football League will draft the top college talent Saturday in separate sessions amidst rumors of premature selections and romancing of the campus heroes. The well-heeled owners await the dollar war with cash in hand.

The New York Giants get first pick in the NFL because they are last in the combined standings. The Houston Oilers own the first two choices in the AFL, having acquired Denver's pick in return for quarterback Jack Lee in an earlier deal. The Chicago Bears get three in the NFL's first round and San Francisco and Green Bay two each.

Dick Butkus, Illinois linebacker; Larry Elkins, Baylor flanker; Craig Morton, California quarterback; Joe Namath, Alabama quarterback; Gayle Sayers, Kansas running back; Jack Snow and John Huarte, Notre Dame's passing combination; and Archie Roberts, Columbia quarterback, are expected to be first round picks, probably in both leagues.

The fierce competition between the two leagues, fired by millions of television dollars, is expected to bring a wild bidding war in which the players must win. In addition to the soaring gate receipts, the NFL is able to fall back on a two-year $28.2 million television contract with CBS and the AFL can draw on a $36 million five-year deal with NBC that starts next season.

Milt Woodard, assistant commissioner of the AFL, denied reports that the league held a sneak draft two weeks ago as reported in a story by Norman Miller in Friday's New York Daily News.

"Our constitution and by-laws don't allow this," said Woodard. "We have set a date for the draft and if we sign anybody before that we would have to void this type of agreement. The story is not true. The only authentic signing must be after a boy is drafted. A signing after the draft would have priority over any previous contract."

Butkus, reportedly already headed for the New York Jets of the AFL, said in Chicago, "As far as I'm concerned, it's all a pack of lies. I have no preference as far as the leagues go, or as far as cities are concerned. I'd just like to play with a team that has a chance to be a winner."

Woodard said there had been reports that the NFL had "about 50 players stashed away around the country and had been romancing others in New York and Washington."

Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, said of the reported premature draft, "Clubs in our league have been telling me for more than a week the AFL has already allocated the rights to a number of prominent players."

According to the NFL, both leagues had promised the NCAA they would not draft until Nov. 28.

A year ago, when the NFL drafted Monday following a Saturday draft by the AFL, the NFL had representatives with several of the top players at their colleges or nearby.

The Giants, hurtling at quarterback with Y. A. Tittle uncertain of his future plans, have indicated they may pass up the college crop of quarterbacks and go for the best player available, regardless of position. Butkus could very well be their choice.

Houston has indicated it is looking toward Elkins in order to complete the Don Trull-Elkins battery that was so successful in 1963 at Baylor. Namath also has attracted Houston's interest.

In the NFL's first round, the Bears have three picks, third, fourth and sixth; Green Bay, second, seventh and 10th, and San Francisco two, second and 13th. The Bears acquired Pittsburgh's and Washington's choices in trades. Green Bay got Philadelphia's first round pick and San Francisco got Cleveland's.

The NFL will hold 20 rounds of 14 picks each, starting at 9 a.m. EST. Coaching staffs and general managers will operate from their home office or a central point by telephone, relaying their selections to Rozelle at a midtown hotel. Futures, or red shirts with college eligibility remaining, can be picked in any round. No player can be drafted unless his original college class graduates in June.

The AFL also will operate by telephone from league points to the Fifth Avenue office with word being relayed to press headquarters at a hotel. The AFL draft will start at 8 a.m. EST. There will be 20 regular rounds and seven separate rounds for futures.

Many of the top college players were drafted last year as futures. Among the 76 picked a year ago were Jerry Rhyme, Tulsa quarterback (Dallas and New York Jets); Roger Staubach, Navy quarterback (Dallas and Kansas City); Bob Hayes, Olympic sprinter from Florida A & M (Dallas and Denver); Bob Berry, Oregon quarterback. Last year the AFL finished the draft early but the NFL dragged on almost 24 hours, finishing up in the early morning hours while owners waited for their representatives to contact players and exact promises or signatures on contracts. It is hoped the telephone deal will speed matters.

Four Golfers Tied In Mexican Meet

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Four and Jim Ferree—tied for the lead at the halfway point of the Mexican National Open Golf Tournament Friday with 139s after 36 holes.

De Vicenzo, who had shared the lead with Canada's George Knudson on opening day, had trouble with his putter Friday and could turn in no better than a par 72 while the Americans were shooting sterling sub-par golf.

Wall shot a 68, Besselink 69 and Ferree 70.

Knudson went to a four-over-par 76 and dropped back into the pack.

Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., shot a searing 33 on the back nine, scoring three birdies which included a 70-foot chip shot on the 15th hole and a 15-foot putt on the final hole.

The veteran Besselink of Grossingers, N.Y., scored four birdies for the second day in a row and referred to his performance as "two great rounds, wonderful rounds for me."

Ferree of Corona, Calif., birdied the second, sixth and 13th holes and bogied the fifth, on which he three-putted.

De Vicenzo was hard put to maintain even a tie for the lead. His greens play was off — he used 34 putts — and his two birdies were matched by two bogies.

"I just didn't play well," the Argentine said. "I don't know exactly what it was. I have no excuses."

Knudson had even worse luck on the greens. He three-putted four times and used a total of 38 putts during his round.

Devaney said McAllen also asked the team to train there but he planned to skip that valley city.

"What we're looking for is a place where we can work a little and our kids can kind of relax and take things easy," Devaney said.

Devaney, who said the team will train here from Dec. 29 until Dec. 25 if it accepts the invitation, will notify the Chamber of Commerce of his decision Monday after returning to Nebraska.

Greenies Hope For Victory In Losing Season

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Duke and Tulane, each hoping to close out losing seasons with a victory, clash here Saturday night in a hurricane-delayed intersectional football duel.

The 8 p.m. kickoff will mark the first meeting between the Blue Devils from North Carolina and the Green Wave from New Orleans.

Duke is a slight favorite to end its four-game losing streak. The Devils enter the game 4-4-1; Tulane is 2-7.

The game had been scheduled for early October, but was postponed because of Hurricane Hilda's winds and rain.

Duke got off to a promising start but hasn't won a game since a 6-0 victory over Army in midseason.

Tulane sports an aggressive, alert defensive unit nicknamed the "Posse" after its members were made honorary deputy sheriffs several weeks ago. The Greenies' problem has been the lack of any punch when in possession of the pigskin.

Last Saturday Tulane made only 33 yards in its 13-3 losing effort against LSU.

Cookie Gilchrist 'Plays For Me' Sport Magazine

NEW YORK (AP) — Cookie Gilchrist, central figure in a bizarre waiver maneuver by the Buffalo Bills last week, is quoted in the December issue of Sport Magazine as saying, "I play for me, not the team."

Gilchrist was put on waivers by Buffalo last week when Coach Lou Saban said "The club is more important than a single individual."

Waivers were withdrawn after Gilchrist apologized to Saban and his teammates. He played Thursday against San Diego.

"I've got a wife and two children to support," the magazine quoted the Buffalo fullback. "This is a business with Cookie Gilchrist. I play for pay, I play for me. My loyalty is only to myself, not to a team or a city or fans but to myself."

Gilchrist also was critical of quarterback Jack Kemp in the article "because he uses me only 18 or 20 times in a game."

GOING TO CHICAGO

Clay Feels Little Weak Leaving Hospital Bed

BOSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay, shedding good will but no predictions about his next fight with Sonny Liston for the heavyweight championship, checked out of Boston City Hospital Friday, at 207 pounds feeling a "little weak" after his hernia operation.

The operation came on a Friday night, just three days before his scheduled bout with Liston on Nov. 16.

Clay said he was going home to Chicago where his wife, Sonji, is from, "to have a honeymoon" and to get ready for his bout with Liston.

Doctors have said he may be ready for fighting in another six months, but Clay wouldn't put it that exactly.

He said he thinks it will be six months before he can do heavy training, but that "it will be as soon as the doctors say — the doctors will be my physical trainers for this one."

He said he was grateful to the doctors, nurses and other hospital staff members who cared for him, and that "they'll all get tickets for that next fight."

He was flanked by his wife and old-time movie comedian Stepin Fetchit for his parting news conference. Also present was 14-year-old Mike Marley, a Boston schoolboy, who Clay said, "you gotta meet, he's the president of my fan club."

Clay said the boy had been

Davidson Coach Quits Position After 13 Years

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — Bill Dole, head football coach at Davidson College for the last 13 years, resigned Friday after his third straight losing season.

Davidson won three games and lost six this season. The 55-year-old coach, whose teams compiled a 43-66 record, said his future plans were uncertain but he hoped to remain in coaching. His successor has not been named.

Davidson President Greir Martin said Dole would continue as a member of the physical education department staff at his present salary through June 30, 1966.

Dole had no contract at Davidson, other than year-to-year agreements, since a two-year contract brought him here in 1952. He had been head coach at East Carolina College three years.

writing to him for three years, "and man, I was glad to meet him."

The Marley lad said he admired Clay for his confidence, but said he didn't want to become a boxer himself.

Clay said he expects to have three more fights. "They'll be the biggest ones, and I want to retire undefeated. If I lose I'll have to leave the country."

And he said he hopes to retire "with a million dollars."

If he does he said he expects "to sit behind a desk and live off the interest."

When a reporter pointed out he's 22 now and still will be in his 20s at retirement, and that he might find idleness boring, he said he might "take another look at education."

"There's a lot of things I don't know," he said. "You know, when you've got a million dollars, you don't have to go to school, I could hire my own private teachers."

Clay said he received telephone calls from all over the country and Europe during his hospital stay, as well as 3,000 pieces of mail.

He said he has answered some of the mail, and plans to hire secretaries to help him reply to the remainder.

Kansas City, with 182.04.

In the women's division, there was a seven-way fight for the lead with Judy Audsley Cook of Kansas City, Mo., leading with 15.03 points for 27 games.

Second was Bobbie Shaler of Chicago with 123.18 while Jean Winsch of South Bend, Ind., jumped into third place with 122.24.

The defending and four-time champion, Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., was fifth with 120.19 points.

Win Is Actually Loss For Two National Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburgh and Washington won the flip of the coin for positions in Saturday's National Football League draft Friday but they actually lost in the over-all picture.

Pittsburgh and the Chicago Bears were tied for third place in the draft and Pittsburgh won the toss. However, the Steelers already had traded their choice to the Bears. In the second round they reverse positions. Pittsburgh, presumably with its own choice in the second round, will draft fourth instead of third as they reverse with each round.

Washington and Philadelphia tied for sixth position in the draft, figured in inverse order of the combined standings through Nov. 22. Washington won the flip but its choice had been traded to the Bears. In the second round, Washington will draft seventh on its own.

Minnesota, tied with Los Angeles, won the toss and will draft eighth in the first round.

The NFL order of draft for the first round:

1. New York
2. San Francisco
3. Chicago (Pittsburgh's choice)
4. Chicago
5. Dallas
6. Chicago (Washington's choice)
7. Green Bay (Philadelphia's choice)
8. Minnesota
9. Los Angeles
10. Green Bay
11. Detroit
12. St. Louis
13. San Francisco (Cleveland's choice)
14. Baltimore

Cowboys Will Set Attendance Record

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League will set a home attendance record when they play Green Bay Sunday. They need only 312 in their two final home games to surpass their previous season record of 188,727.

If the Cowboys maintain their five-game average of 37,683 they will reach 250,000.

Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels led the major leagues with a 1.65 earned run average last season. He also led both leagues in shutouts with 11.

State Playoff Results

Sulphur Romps To Easy 40-13 Playoff Victory

SULPHUR, La. (AP)—Third-ranked Sulphur advanced to the quarter-finals of the state triple-A football playoffs Friday night with a 40-13 victory over West Jefferson.

The Golden Tors rolled up 289 yards on a soggy playing field and scored almost at will against West Jefferson, the unranked runner-up in the District 4-AAA race.

After getting two touchdowns in the first half on short runs by D. L. Martine and Wayne Stroder the Tors broke the game wide open after intermission.

Martine added two more touchdowns on runs of 39 and 19 yards.

Ray Rodrigue scored for West Jefferson on a two-yard plunge and set up the other with an 80-yard run to the Sulphur 14.

Last Minute Run

NAPOLEONVILLE, La. (AP)—Assumption, on the strength of John O'Neill's last minute 57-yard touchdown run, scored a 26-19 double-A bi-district victory over Rayne Friday night.

O'Neill's run, which came with four minutes left in the contest, capped off a 72-yard drive.

Landry Wins

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Landry of Lake Charles raced to an 18-7 victory over Opelousas' Academy of the Immaculate Conception Friday night in a class A bi-district playoff contest.

Ronnie Gaudet paced Landry with two touchdowns on runs of 72 and two yards.

EUNICE, La. (AP)—Eddie Larsen scored two touchdowns as Eunice took a 26-6 first round class double A bi-district playoff victory over Leesville Friday night.

Menard Hangs On

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—Fifth-ranked Menard of Alexandria scored in the opening minutes and hung on for a 7-0 double-A bi-district playoff victory over sixth-ranked Jennings.

Quarterback Bruce Davis went over from the two and Pat Dell kicked the conversion after Menard took the opening kickoff and marched 75 yards.

Basile In Upset

BASILE, La. (AP)—Basile, unranked in the class B top 10, upset fifth ranked Mt. Carmel of Abbeville 7-0 Friday night in a bi-district playoff game.

Gene Miesko blasted over from the five after Basile scooped up a Mt. Carmel fumble two plays earlier at the visitors' 15. Charles Savoy booted the conversion.

Central Romps

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)—Mike Ditch, the state's leading prep pointmaker, tallied three touchdowns and two extra points to lead top-ranked Central Catholic of Morgan City to a 27-6 victory over St. James in a first round class B playoff game Friday night.

Ditch boosted his scoring total to 176 points.

He tallied on a 41-yard romp, a two-yard plunge and hauled in a 40-yard touchdown pass from Henry Fuselier.

Ridgewood On Downs

HARVEY, La. (AP)—Dutchtown and second-ranked Ridgewood of Metairie Friday night battled to a 6-6 deadlock but Ridgewood advanced to the second round of the class B playoffs on first downs.

Ridgewood rolled up 12 first downs to 7 for Dutchtown on the neutral field.

Ridgewood scored first when Pete Adams raced 23 yards with 39 seconds left in the first period.

Barry Boudreaux gave Dutchtown the deadlock when he plunged over from the one.

Adams was the top rusher with 102 yards, Byron Babin collected 99 for Dutchtown.

East Jefferson Gets By Gators

METairie, La. (AP)—Second-ranked East Jefferson—Louisiana's only undefeated triple-A team—used Barry Bordenel to defeat LaGrange of Lake Charles 13-7 in a first round playoff game Friday night.

Bordenel, East Jeff's stellar candidate for all-state fullback honors, scored both touchdowns and added the extra point, and collected 104 yards rushing on 31 carries.

East Jefferson, which was tied in its first two regular season games, will play the winner of next week's game between New Orleans Holy Cross and Baton Rouge.

Baton Rouge defeated Woodlawn of Shreveport 6-0 Friday night.

LaGrange, ranked fourth in the final Associated Press triple-A poll, fought back in the fourth quarter for its touchdown which came on a one-yard sneak by Greg Dupin.

Bulldogs Trim Knights, 6 to 0

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Baton Rouge trimmed Woodlawn of Shreveport 6-0 Friday night and will meet Holy Cross in New Orleans next week in a second-round triple-A playoff game.

The Bulldogs scored with 5:34 remaining when George Bevan scored from the one. Bevan blocked Ken Liberto's punt and recovered on the Knights' 49 to set up the winning drive.

Woodlawn, runnerup in 1-AAA, was leading the 3-AAA champions on first downs when Baton Rouge launched its goalward advance.

Belle Chase In Playoff Win, 14-0

BELLE CHASSE, La. (AP)—Warren Bremer scored two first half touchdowns to lead fifth-ranked Belle Chasse to a 14-0 class A first round playoff victory over ninth-ranked Luther Friday night.

Bremer scored on runs of 6 and 81 yards and ran for 139 of Belle Chasse's 168 yards on the ground.

Crowley Stays Unbeaten In AA

CROWLEY, La. (AP)—Second-ranked Crowley remained undefeated and untied as it scored a 19-6 first round double-A playoff victory over Larose-

Cutoff Friday night. Harry Shreve put Crowley out front in the second period with a 36 yard run, but Russ Danos tied it up for Larose with a 14-yard jaunt before the end of the half.

Crowley went ahead to stay in the third period when it marched 77 yards and Ronnie Broussard went over from the one. Danny Hampton converted, making the score 13-6.

Hampton gave Crowley its final score when he drove over from the one with 46 seconds left in the game.

'Jackets Defeat Glen Oaks On First Downs, 0-0

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Byrd High of Shreveport, top-ranked, advanced to the quarter-finals of the state triple-A playoffs by a first downs victory over Glen Oaks of Baton Rouge Friday night after they battled to a scoreless tie.

Coach J. D. Cox: Yellow Jackets posted 13 first downs to nine for Glen Oaks, the No. 5 triple-A team.

Glen Oaks pushed to the Byrd 23 in the last two minutes of the game but a Billy Mistrick field goal attempt from the 30 was blocked by the Byrd line.

The victory enables Byrd to host Jesuit of New Orleans, the winner of District 5-AAA here next Friday night. Jesuit drew a first round bye.

Cox won the toss of the coin with Jesuit's Ken Tarzetti for the site immediately following the game.

Byrd's deepest penetration came in the first half when the Jackets went to the Panther 26. However a fourth and two situation resulted in a six yard loss.

Glen Oaks moved to the Byrd eight just before intermission but the drive halted.

Hammond Pulls Big Prep Upset

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Hammond pulled one of the major upsets of the prep season Friday night by topping unbeaten Redemptorist of Baton Rouge, ranked first in double-A, 7-2 in a first round playoff contest.

The Tornadoes blew into Baton Rouge with a rain, which had a lot of bearing on the game. Neither team could move the ball well.

Hammond pushed across its touchdown in the second period when end Richard Gaudet hauled in a 23-yard pass.

Redemptorist got a safety when Mac Paul jumped on a bad snap from the Hammond center.

Twice in the fourth quarter, Redemptorist reached the Hammond two. The first time the Wolves fumbled the ball away; the second time the Hammond line—biggest prep forward wall in the state—stopped the drive.

Southern State Trims Nicholls

THIBODAUX, La. (AP)—Southern State of Magnolia, Ark., took a permanent lead early in the second half Friday night to top the Nicholls basketball squad 82-77.

John Summers, one of 10 freshmen on the Nicholls team, was top scorer with 24 points. Danny Denton paced Southern with 23.

Nicholls led most of the first half and held a 39-37 halftime advantage. But Southern got two quick baskets within the first 10 seconds after intermission to lead the rest of the way.

Don Unverferth, Ohio State quarterback, completed 20 of his first 33 passes thrown this fall.

Belle Chase In Playoff Win, 14-0

BELLE CHASSE, La. (AP)—Warren Bremer scored two first half touchdowns to lead fifth-ranked Belle Chasse to a 14-0 class A first round playoff victory over ninth-ranked Luther Friday night.

OVER BOBO OLSON

Torres Scores First Round KO

NEW YORK (AP)—Exuberant Jose Torres, making his first start as a light-heavyweight, scored a stunning first round knockout of baling old Bobo Olson Friday night, possibly paving his way for a title fight.

The Puerto Rican weighed 170½ and gave away 5¼ pounds to the 36-year-old former middleweight champion from San Francisco.

The end came with shocking abruptness at 2:51 of the first of a scheduled 10-rounder.

Olson, a pro veteran of 20 years, appeared to be moving along nicely. There had been little action in the opening moments, with both Olson and Torres feeling each other out.

Then Torres, fighting out of the peek-a-bo defense made famous by former staminate Floyd Patterson, opened up a flashing, two-handed flurry.

Olson looked up into the midst of it, a left hand caught him flush on the chin and it was over.

The veteran rolled over on his back, struggled to his hands and knees and aimlessly crawled about the ring a moment before making a vain attempt to get to his feet.

He didn't come close to making it. He was on his knees in an almost prayerful pose in front of referee Johnny Lobianco when the count reached 10.

The quick victory appeared to open the way for a light-heavy title shot for Torres.

Champion Willie Pastrano previously had promised a title shot to the winner of the Olson-Torres bout provided he, Pastrano, gets by London's Terry Downes in England Monday.

The victory was the 34th against a single loss and one draw for Torres. Olson, who may have reached the end of a 2½ year comeback, now has a record of 89-15-2.

However, Manager Yogi Berra of the Yankees must feel he is a little part of both. In two exhibition games this season Yogi went to bat twice and each time hit into a double play.

He played in the Yankee Old Timers game and in the Mayor's Trophy game in which the Yankees beat the Mets, 6-4.

ROYAL CLICKS AT TEXAS

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Darrell Royal has compiled a fabulous record in his seven years as head coach at the University of Texas.

In 76 games before the start of the present campaign, the Longhorns have won 59, lost only 14 and tied 3, they have been in six bowl games.

Royal's teams have won four Southwest Conference titles, including the last three. His last three teams have lost only one regular-season game.

COMPLETE EARLIER DEAL?

Yankees Sell Daley To Cleveland Indians

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Yankees Friday announced the sale of southpaw pitcher Bud Daley to the Cleveland Indians for "an undisclosed amount of cash."

Although the Yankees announced the "sale" as a separate transaction, it was known that actually it completed the Yankees' purchase last season of pitcher Pedro Ramos from the Indians. Ramos played an important role in the Yankees' pennant triumph as a relief pitcher.

The Yankees already had sent pitcher Ralph Terry to the Indians as the first part of the transaction.

Daley, 32, came to the Yankees in the middle of the 1961 season after previously pitching in the American League with Cleveland and Kansas City. Spending part of the 1964 season with the Yankees' Richmond affiliate of the International League, Daley had a 5-2 record in brief appearances with the Yankees.

Daley, a knuckleball pitcher, reached the majors with Cleveland in 1955. At the end of the 1957 season he was traded to Baltimore as part of the deal that brought outfielder Larry Doby to Cleveland. But before the next season started, he was traded from Baltimore to Kansas City. He was a 16-game winner for Kansas City in 1959 and again in 1960.

AMAZING COMEBACK

Georgia Bulldogs Seek Tale Ending

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—The Georgia Bulldogs will try to write a storybook ending to one of the most amazing comebacks in Southeastern Conference football history when they meet Georgia Tech Saturday.

If, at the start of the season, anyone had said the Bulldogs were going to go to a bowl game, that person would have immediately become a candidate for an asylum.

But the Bulldogs pulled off a long string of upsets and find themselves going into the finale with the arch-rival Yellow Jackets with a 5-3-1 record and a bid from the Sun Bowl dangling under their noses.

There is speculation that Georgia will get the bid to meet Texas Tech regardless of the outcome of the Tech game. The Sun Bowl, the nation's oldest bowl, is played at El Paso, Tex., and takes on added lustre this year because of a national television contract.

Surprisingly Georgia is rated a slight favorite to beat Tech, despite the fact that the Yellow Jackets have the better record and seem to have more depth, power and speed than do the Bulldogs.

Tech brings a 7-2 record into the game and will be trying to break a two-game losing streak. The Jackets rolled over Vanderbilt, Miami, Clemson, Navy, Auburn, Tulane and Duke before dropping decisions to Tennessee and Alabama.

Georgia opened the season with a 31-3 loss to Alabama, but then regrouped its forces to win five of its next seven games. The Bulldogs also have lost to Florida State and Auburn, have beaten Vanderbilt, Clemson, Kentucky, North Carolina and Florida and tied South Carolina.

Both teams go into the game in good physical condition. The only doubtful performer for Georgia is tackle Ray Rissmiller, who has an elbow injury. End Dave Austin, who injured an ankle against Alabama, will miss the game for Tech.

Georgia Tech coach Bobby Dodd said he will start Jerry Priestly at the quarterback spot instead of alternating the spot between the latter and Bruce Fischer.

A crowd of more than 50,000 is expected to be on hand for the 56th meeting between these rivals. Georgia holds the edge in the series with 26 victories, 25 losses and five ties.

Perfect football weather is forecast and kickoff is scheduled for 2 p.m. EST.

THREE SETS OF BROTHERS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—When third baseman Ken Boyer of the Cardinals and Clete Boyer of the Yankees opposed each other in the World Series they made it the third brother act in the fall classic.

The last brothers to play on rival teams in a Series were outfielders Emil (Irish) Meusel of the Giants and Bob Meusel of the Yankees. They were rivals in 1921, 22, 23, 24. First brother act in a series included Jimmy and Wheeler Johnston in 1920. Jimmy played third base for the Dodgers and Wheeler held down first base for the Indians.

opening home games, Tulane will hit the road for six games before opening Southeastern Conference play in January.

Nissalle has five scholarship and five non-scholarship players on the freshman team. Scholarship boys are 6-5 Jim Howes of Owensboro, Ky.; 6-5 Dan Moersch of Stoughton, Wis.; 6-6 Tom Reineck of Chicago, Ill.; 6-5 Jon Spadorcia of Indianapolis, Ind.; and 6-5 Mitch Urbanski of Kenosha, Wis.

Non-scholarship players on the Tulane freshman team are 5-10 Dave Smith of Gainesville, Fla.; 5-10 Woody Lovell of Atlanta, Ga.; 6-1 Steve Welch of Spartanburg, S.C.; 6-2 Jim Long of Memphis, Tenn.; and 5-10 Art Seavers of New Orleans, La.

Georgia Said To Play Tech In Sun Bowl

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The University of Georgia has accepted a bid to play Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl, the Albuquerque Journal reported Friday night.

Sports editor Leroy Bearman, in a column written for Saturday morning, quoted what he called reliable sources as telling him Georgia accepted the bid last Tuesday for the game Dec. 26 in El Paso, Tex.

Georgia Athletic Director Joel Eaves said Friday, after being asked about the reported Sun Bowl bid, "I will admit we are in pretty close contact with those people."

Under Southeastern Conference rules, Georgia (5-3-1) can't accept a bid formally until after its game Saturday with Georgia Tech.

Texas Tech, Bearman wrote, voted to play either Georgia or Auburn but Auburn decided against accepting a bowl bid because of its 6-4 record.

C. B. Bobo, Sun Bowl chairman, announced Wednesday that Texas Tech, 6-3-1, had accepted a bid.

THIS IS A STORY

about the little Fisk Boy.

One night the little Fisk boy was ready to go to bed.

And as usual he had a candle in his hand, and a tire over his shoulder. Just then, his mother said, "Are you going to take that dirty tire to bed with you again?"

And the little Fisk boy answered, "But Mom, this is no ordinary tire, this is a Fisk tire. It's all nylon. And it's been inspected 154 times. And the best thing about it is that it doesn't cost as much as other nylon tires."

"OK, OK," said his mother, "take the tire to bed again, but can't you at least use an electric light — that silly candle drips over everything."

Wilson-Terral Wedding Party Complimented At Luncheon, Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Voelker and Mrs. Frank Voelker Sr. of Lake Providence were hosts at a supper party honoring Miss Michael Ann Terral and David Scott Wilson following the Wilson-Terral wedding rehearsal the evening of November 27.

The Voelkers entertained at Rose Villa, the lakeside home of Mrs. Voelker Sr. Pyracantha berries were used in profusion about the reception rooms. In the dining room where two tables were set silver candelabra entwined with pyracantha berries formed the central decor. Adding a note of interest were handmade dolls representing the bride and groom. The bride's table featured the bride and groom while bridesmaids adorned the other table.

For the occasion Miss Terral was attired in a forest green cut velvet suit.

At this time the honored couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Guests included Miss Terral, Mr. Wilson of Raleigh, N.C., Mr. and Mrs. James Benton Collier of Birmingham, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Forrest Terral, Ruston, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McKeogh, New Orleans, Miss Martha Wilson and Mrs. John Murray Wilson, Raleigh, N.C., Miss Claudia Dean Terral, William Timothy Terral, David Tschabold, Rev. and Mrs. Ned L. Stout, Dr. and Mrs. Forrest M. Terral, all of Lake Providence, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Alexander Kirby, Ralph McDonald and Richard Haywood Mason Jr. of Raleigh, N.C.

LUNCHEON

Miss Michael Ann Terral and her bridesmaids were honored on Friday, November 27, when Mrs. R. N. Amacker, Miss Margaret Amacker and Mrs. H. H. Moorman entertained with a luncheon at the Amacker home on First street in Lake Providence.

Miss Terral, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Terral of Lake Providence, will wed David Scott Wilson of Raleigh, North Carolina on Saturday.

A color scheme of pink was featured in the decorations and appointments. The centerpiece on the honoree's table was of chrysanthemums in pale pink shading to deep wine in an antique crystal bowl. Smaller tables held similar arrangements. White place cards embossed with pink flowers and a miniature nosegay designated places for the guests. Assisting

Don't Make Cheetah Style Fad

By DENNIS NEEDL

NAIROBI, Africa (AP) — The East African wildlife society has appealed to French fashion designer Marc Bohan to make no more coats out of cheetah skin.

By coincidence pictures of a model in a cheetah skin coat trimmed with mink arrived in Kenya on the very day the wildlife society put aside 1,000 pounds from its funds to discover why cheetahs are dying out. "Now let's agree your model looks attractive, seductive, comfortable in that skin," concedes an open letter to the Christian Dior couturier.

"But some of the world's great writers have said things about cheetahs which would have made you purr if they had been said about your coat."

The letter, published in the society's quarterly review, goes on:

"The point is the cheetah who first owned it liked that skin. He enjoyed wearing it. It fitted well, did a wonderful job, looked good. People watched that cheetah when it was alive and they knew no tailor's shears could improve on the cut."

A team of wildlife experts is about to start a study of the cheetah population of East Africa so that a conservation plan might be drawn up.

The society's investigators will consult scientists, game wardens, hunters, trappers and individual wildlife enthusiasts.

"Our fear is that with your great following you may have started a longing for cheetah skin just when our cheetah survival study is about to begin," the letter to Bohan continues.

"What do we do then?" it asks. "Close with the words: 'extinction of species due to clever fashion designer?'"

Cheetahs belong in national parks not fashion houses, protests the society.

"But if you go ahead with your fashion plan the cheetah is going to be put to use in the most inhuman way and be hunted down by poachers," says the open letter.

"Before it is too late this appeal is addressed to you and to the ladies of fashion who are your international customers."

"Please put that cheetah fashion down. Turn your attention to fabrics which have not been born through death."

DEAR ABBY

Sports Widow Still Told To Be Patient

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You told that sports widow to be patient. Well, I have been patient for many years. I am now 57, and I'm STILL patient, but I am also still a sports' widow. When my husband's legs and wind gave out, he gave up and turned to golf, which he plays from a cart, weather permitting. When he comes home, he collapses and I serve his meals on a tray, while he watches sports events on TV, with the volume turned up high enough to transport him to the event he's watching. He is now planning retirement — to a climate which will enable him to play golf every day. He claims his reason for playing golf is to keep him "in shape." In shape for what?

STILL A SPORTS' WIDOW:
DEAR SPORTS' WIDOW:
To play more golf.

DEAR ABBY: With the holidays coming up, I wish you'd mention something in your column about my pet holiday gripe, which is shared by many. People who give parties in the basement!

You get all dolled up for a party, and when you get there you spend the evening in the basement. Even though it is nicely furnished and decorated, it still smells musty and it's damp. Last year I had one cold after another from sitting in those basement recreation rooms. I can't understand people with lovely, comfortable homes (upstairs) who entertain their guests in the basement. Are they afraid someone will get a spot on the rug?

HATES BASEMENTS
DEAR HATES: Probably. Some lower level recreation rooms are every bit as comfortable as what's upstairs, but many are not. And people who have gone to the expense of converting their basements into entertaining areas are the last to feel the dampness.

DEAR ABBY: I did a foolish thing and now I'm in a mess. I accepted an engagement ring from a guy before he went into the Navy. I didn't wear my ring while I worked at a resort last summer. There I met another man who made me realize that I didn't love the sailor after all. He gave me an engagement ring, too. I think about the sailor boy when I'm alone but I prefer the other one when I'm with him. What to do?

MIXED UP
DEAR MIXED: Return both rings until the gob makes port. Then, when the game's even again, pick the winner (if, by that time, either are still in the running).

Troubled? Write to ABBY, c/o News-Star. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Hints For Repairing, Cleaning Rubber Dolls

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

I have an eleven-month-old baby who has insisted on feeding himself since he was nine months old.

Naturally, this means the use of fingers so he has very messy shirt sleeves after eating, and stained sleeves after they are washed.

I found terry cloth, stretch glass coasters are excellent sleeve covers. They slip right over his hand onto the lower part of his arm and protect the sleeve.

After he has eaten, the coast-ers are easily removed and just thrown into the washer.

This keeps baby sweet and clean with a nice, bright, unstained shirt.

Mrs. Wesniewski

Honey, this is a terrific idea. And I'll bet your little boy loves looking at the bright colors of the coasters, too, doesn't he?

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Do your nerves jangle every time you open the refrigerator door and all those bottles on the door shelves hit against the front of the shelves?

If you tape a narrow strip of foam rubber along the inside of the metal front, you will have no more clanging bottles when you open the refrig.

The Quiet One

Dear Heloise:

After reading the hint about putting oil on the sockets of a doll's arms and legs in order to replace the missing limb, I just had to write to you.

I repair dolls and would never

Make Christmas Shopping A Pleasure For Everyone

Despite complaints about who likes flowers (and who doesn't!) will delight in receiving flowers - by wire, or a potted plant. A selection of fine gourmet foods will please almost anyone, while the woman who loves knitting will welcome an all-in-one knitting pak. Let the store where you buy handle the mailing; they're expert at this and you will be relieved of a major burden.

If you prefer a continuing gift, almost anyone will enjoy a subscription to the local newspaper, especially those who have moved away.

Of course, Christmas shopping can be physically tiring, so follow these suggestions to make it less so: Start early in the day and spend only four or five hours at it. Wear comfortable walking shoes. Carry a small purse to lighten your load; shoulder-strap bags are fashionable convenience and leave your hands free.

Ride elevators and escalators wherever possible. Get off your feet several times during your tour. Eat a good nourishing lunch and take one or two coffee or tea "breaks."

As soon as you return from each shopping trip, take a hot leisurely bath, two aspirin tablets to ease your aching muscles and lie down for 15 or 20 minutes. This will leave you refreshed for your family.

By planning your Christmas shopping, and doing it in an organized way, not only will you get more joy from it, but your family won't be able to say: "It was the night before Christmas and all through the house, not even Mother!"

Research Debunks Old Ideas

CHICAGO (UPI) — Go on and enjoy that heavy snack before you turn in at night. It won't keep you from falling asleep. In fact, you may even sleep better.

So say sleep researchers of the Spring Air Company here which has dug into the loss of sleep. What you may have heard about daytime naps, sleeping on your left side, and using a hard mattress all being good for sleep are just the bunk, the bedding company says. And mistaken notions about sleep may, in fact, keep you awake.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Don't worry about frozen foods thawing while Junior raids the refrigerator. Opening the outer door of a conventional refrigerator actually lowers the temperature in the cold-storage area, say household equipment specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The reason? A rise in temperature in the general - storage space activates the thermostat. And, because the evaporator coils "surround" the low-temperature space, the frozen food gets the benefit of the lowered temperature in these coils.

Golden Wedding Open House Honors Hickses

On Sunday afternoon, November 22, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. (Lane) Hicks were honored with an open house.

Guests were greeted as they arrived by Kathy Nolan and Pam Hicks Mrs. David Martin and Mrs. Leon Odom presided at the guest book.

Receiving with the honored couple were their nine children and Mrs. George Carter, an attendant in the wedding 50 years ago. Mrs. Hicks wore a black crepe dress with a corsage of gold chrysanthemums.

The refreshment table, covered with yellow linen and overlaid with beige lace, was centered with an arrangement of autumn flowers, flanked with yellow tapers. Misses Joan and Madelyn Antley served the tiered wedding cake topped with bells. Miss Mary Jo Bottoms presided at the crystal punch bowl.

Assisting with gifts were Miss Betty Nolan and Miss Gay Banks. All members of the house party were granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hicks.

Children, grandchildren and great grandchildren attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Sheffield, Steve and Scott; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robertson, Donny Kinney and Timmy; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lane Hicks, Linda Barbara, and Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Dollar, Ronald, Randall, Rodney and Rhonda; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Nolan, Betty Kathy and Ricky; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hicks and Pam; Mrs. J. put oil on a rubber doll. Instead, I use talcum or cornstarch and the parts of the doll will slip into place very easily.

Also, the best way to clean a rubber doll is to sprinkle cleansing powder on a clean, damp cloth and rub the doll lightly, then rinse off the cleansing powder.

Always powder the doll with talcum powder to dry-the-pores in the rubber afterwards.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER:

Dear Heloise:

If any of your housewives would like to cut their laundry chores down considerably, try my new method.

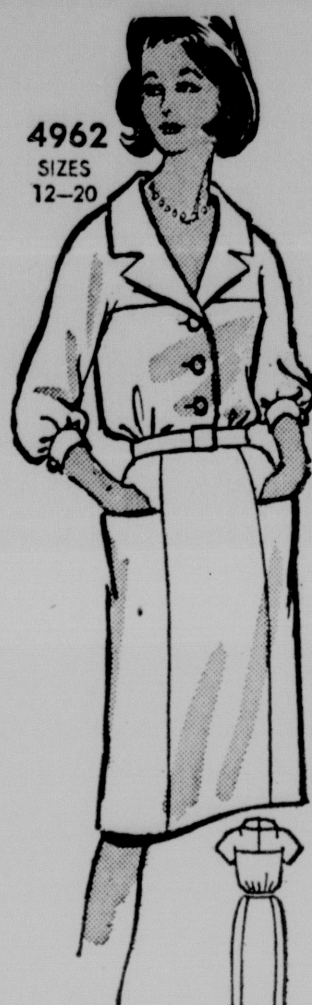

When my husband and my children put their soiled clothes in the laundry basket inside out . . . I launder the clothes and return them, folded nicely, to their drawers, INSIDE OUT!

This saves me lots and lots of time, and believe me, it didn't take long for them to catch on. Soon I expect to find all the soiled laundry rightside out.

Mrs. Louise T. Eggers

P.S. If other husbands are like mine, they will wear their clothes inside out. But . . . I'm sure he will give in before I do!

A statement by Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said, "The basic emphasis will be on more effective advance and preventive work by the service in connection with presidential travel, as well as the use of more sophisticated equipment."

The measures outlined seem to follow Dillon's recommendation to the Warren Commission for a 20-month, $2-million program.

Salaries for the new personnel to be hired in the first step of the program will cost $650,000.

The report of the Warren Commission criticized both the Secret Service and the FBI in connection with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The Warren group emphasized that there was no alert to the Secret Service concerning Lee Harvey Oswald, even though he was known to the FBI as a one-time defector to the Soviet Union.

The commission also said there was no advance scrutiny of the building from which Oswald fired the shots that killed Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., on Nov. 22, 1963.

The reference to sophisticated equipment apparently means the service will follow a recommendation that it use electronic data processing methods to keep track of potential assassins.

Journal Predicts U.S.-China War By Year's End

LONDON (UPI)—The Times of London said Friday the Viet Nam situation makes it "possible that the United States will be at war with China by the end of the year, or soon after."

The grim prediction, in a dispatch filed by the Times' respected Washington correspondent, said this was the effect of a warning from Secretary of State Dean Rusk to administration members who "want to enlarge the war in Viet Nam."

"Few appear to have listened," the Times said.

The newspaper said the "consensus (in Washington) had gradually hardened round the proposal to bomb Viet Cong targets in North Viet Nam."

But, the Times said, these targets are so elusive that such bombing was almost certain to fail.

"Once the frontier is crossed and these missions are proved worthless, the next step, the next demand, would be the bombing of North Viet Nam industry and communications centers," it said. "War with China would be inevitable."

Experts Predict Youth Delinquency

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Jimmy Q. is only 5. He's never been in trouble. Yet, unless he gets help, the odds are he will become a delinquent.

Prof. Sheldon Glueck of Harvard Law School and his wife, Dr. Eleanor Glueck, say such a prediction can be made with a high degree of accuracy.

In two long-term studies, using their prediction method, it proved 85 to 90 per cent correct. How does the Glueck Prediction Table work? Are such predictions useful in combatting delinquency, or even desirable? Where might they lead?

In an interview, the Gluecks said they evolved their prediction table from an intensive study begun in 1940 of 1,000 Massachusetts boys including 500 persistent delinquents and 500 nondelinquents. For each delinquent boy of a particular age, intelligence, ethnic and racial background and neighborhood, there was a matching nondelinquent.

Then began a search for what makes a delinquent, for what the Gluecks call "universals" or traits common to the delinquents but not found in the others.

They checked 402 traits and found the most significant differences appeared in family life, character structure, and temperament.

may be some two-thirds of that during 1963 and will continue to decrease progressively in future years," the report said.

Contamination declined sharply after December 1962 as the result of the United States, Russia and Britain halting atmospheric tests.

When it came to applying their findings to actual cases, Glueck table, make the chances 89 out of 100 that he would be come a delinquent.

At the other end of the scale would be George D., 6. His mother knows where he is and what he is doing at all times and he is firm but kindly disciplinarian. There also is marked cohesiveness in his family which enjoys doing things together.

The Glueck table says the chances of George becoming a delinquent are only 8.6 out of 100.

The Gluecks say their tests have proved equally accurate whether the children were girls or boys.

The couple emphasized they feel a lot of work must be done to determine "nonscaring techniques for teaching parents."

The major criticism leveled at the Gluecks, the professor said, "is that by calling a child a potential delinquent, you are bringing about a self-fulfilling prophecy."

"No one," he said, "is going to point at a child and say, 'You are a delinquent.'"

In the New York study, he said, "the child wasn't told, even the teachers didn't know. It is a matter of skillful social work."

While their work has come in for criticism, it also has brought the Gluecks honors. In 1958, they each received honorary doctorate degrees.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Klansmen Leave Services As Negro Begins Reading

WILSON, N.C. (AP) — Four right in and walk right out of unmasked men in Ku Klux Klan robes walked out during a racially integrated Thanksgiving Day service here Thursday when a Negro minister rose to read the Scripture.

The walkout was termed "sacriligious" Friday by the Rev. John Wilson, president of the Wilson Ministers Association which sponsored the service in the Rev. Mr. Wilson's First Baptist church.

"I think it was very disappointing that they would come in churches. Asked if the KKK was active in the Wilson area, he replied: "Very much so."

The Rev. William E. Thompson said a single robed Klansman attended his night service Oct. 25 in the neighboring city of Rocky Mount, about 20 miles from Wilson.

In an article in the Presbyterian News, published monthly by the North Carolina Synod of the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Mr. Thompson said the Klansman seated himself directly in front of the pulpit and left during the final hymn.

"The galling presence of this robed inquisitor upset me very much and I imagine that my voice quivered from time to time," he said. "But I went right on through what I planned to say including some rather pointed remarks about our loving in deed and truth when it came to how we piously mouth our love for the Negro brethren."

4 Persons Killed In Car Smashup At Intersection

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Four persons were killed and another was injured seriously Friday in the collision of two automobiles at an intersection.

Police said the crash occurred at an intersection where a stop sign had been installed recently on a former thoroughfare.

Killed were Harold C. Edwards, 56; his wife, Violet, 53; and 2-year-old grandson, Scott Christopher Edwards, all of Mercer Island, Wash., and Richard E. Lauderback, 34, Portland. He was alone in his car.

In fair condition at a hospital was Kay I. Edwards, 23, a United Air Lines stewardess.

She is a daughter of the Edwards couple.

Three of the robed men took seats in the front of the church before the Thanksgiving service began and the fourth remained in the rear of the sanctuary.

The four stalked out and joined a few other robed men on the street adjacent to the church as the Rev. U. S. Johnson, Negro pastor of St. John Zion church, began reading. The Rev. Mr. Johnson could not be reached for comment.

A man who said he was one of the robed Klansmen who stood outside the church during the service said the incident was not planned as far as he knew. He said the group hoped to call attention to their dislike of racially integrated meetings even

African Nations Dislike Present; Congo Dissents

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — With the Congo dissenting, the African group of U.N. delegations Friday night expressed "deep concern at the present situation in the Congo resulting from American and Belgian military intervention."

The group chairman, Chief S. O. Adebayo of Nigeria, announced the decision after a three-hour private meeting of the group. He said a formal request for a Security Council meeting on the situation was drafted and ready to go in whenever the signal came from governments in Africa.

However, he also said that the Congo did not join the other 32 members of the group in accepting a committee report on the subject. And Pierre M'Bale, charge d'affaires of the Congolese delegation, said his government considered that there was no object in having a council meeting.

He held that the operation Belgium and the United States carried out in the Congo to rescue their nationals from the Congolese rebels had the consent of his government and "was neither an act of aggression nor an act of unilateral intervention."

M'Bale said there had been matters "which could have been brought before the Security Council, but were not, when Tanganyika, Uganda, Zanzibar and Gabon got their former colonial rulers 'to put down their rebellions' at a cost of thousands of lives."

"My government called on no government to put down the Congolese rebellion," he said. "The United States and Belgium intervened to carry out a rescue operation within the framework of their own responsibilities toward their own nationals in agreement with my own government."

The group's action was based on the report of a committee made up of delegates from the nine countries that make up the special Congo Conciliation Commission of the Organization of African Unity, now meeting in Nairobi.

New Delhi Site Of U.S. Meeting With Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman said Friday the United States will hold talks with Cambodia in New Delhi, India, Dec. 7 aimed at removing differences between the two countries.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said career diplomat Philip W. Bonsal, former U.S. ambassador to Cuba, Morocco, Colombia and Bolivia, had been designated by President Johnson to represent the United States.

Bonsal will not negotiate with Cambodia on questions involving South Viet Nam and Thailand without the participation of those two countries in the talks, McCloskey said.

This ruled out any U.S. negotiations involving Cambodia's demand that South Viet Nam turn over some disputed islands and recognize the existing frontier between the two countries.

It did make possible talks on Cambodian charges that the United States had violated Cambodian frontiers by assisting and supporting South Vietnamese forces who had chased Viet Cong guerrillas into Cambodian territory.

McCloskey said no formal agenda had been set for the talks.

Questions likely to come up include the failure of Cambodia to accredit U.S. Ambassador-designate Randolph A. Kidder, now in Paris after being unable to present his credentials to the Cambodian government last September.

The deterioration in relations with the United States over the past year has led to the removal of all U.S. aid and military missions at the request of the Cambodians and the reduction of the U.S. Embassy to a skeleton staff. Cambodia has increasingly leaned toward Red China and has announced that it recognizes the South Vietnamese Front of National Liberation, the political arm of the Communist guerrilla movement, as the authentic representative of the Vietnamese people.

Viet Nam Battle Claims Life Of Old Glory's Son

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — Army Master Sgt. Gordon L. Robinson, who was born in Old Glory died for it in Viet Nam.

Awarded two medals posthumously for bravery, the 44-year-old Robinson, son of R. D. Robinson of Old Glory, Tex., died this week when Communist guerrillas ambushed his four-vehicle convoy 22 miles southeast of Saigon.

With him died 15 Vietnamese army cadets in a trap sprung by the Communists near the town of Long Thanh.

The lone American was last seen alive as he herded his small convoy out onto the Cap San Jacques - Saigon highway Tuesday morning, taking the lead in his jeep and followed by two armored cars and a truck loaded with the cadets.

His charred body was found in the burned out hulk of an armored car where he had attempted to fight off his killers. Crumpled beside him was the armored car crew, burned practically beyond recognition when a 57-mm recoilless rifle shell exploded in the fuel tanks. Friday, the Vietnamese tenderly placed on his flag-draped casket two medals, one of them the highest medal that can be awarded a Vietnamese enlisted man.

The husky non-com had survived two wars — Korea and World War II — but his luck ran out at 11:15 a.m. just two months before he was to return home.

Robinson was eligible for retirement two years ago but elected to extend and serve a hitch in Viet Nam as a fitting climax to his Army career.

Flash Fire Kills Five In House

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A flash fire destroyed a house early Friday killing five persons — a couple and three of their young grandchildren.

The dead were Tomas Hernandez, 68, and his wife, Paula, 61; and the children Miguel, 1, Sylvia, 6; and Ramiro Hernandez, 7. They were children of Mr. and Mrs. John Hernandez.

The elderly man's body was in a charred chair, holding a sofa. His wife was dead on a bed. The other two children were trapped in a bed.

Two escaped. Pete Hernandez, 16, son of the victims, and Daniel Hernandez, 9, another grandson, reached safety.

Firemen Billy Biggs and Donald Green were treated for injuries at a hospital. Both were in good condition.

It took firemen three hours to put out the midnight fire in the five-room wooden and stucco building. Justice of Peace George McCloskey said the victims died with virtually no warning. What caused the fire was not known.

The Military Merit Medal and the Cross of Gallantry with Palms will accompany Robinson's body which is being flown to his widow, Mrs. Carrie Robinson of Austin, Tex.

The husky non-com had survived two wars — Korea and World War II — but his luck ran out at 11:15 a.m. just two months before he was to return home.

AT LBJ RANCH

Livestock Raiser Treated As VIP

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — A young Iowa livestock raiser came to the LBJ ranch on Friday to complete a cattle deal and got VIP treatment along with two 350-pound purebred steers.

Dale Malechek, foreman of President Johnson's ranch, treated Billy Miltner, 12, to a tour of the site of the second White House similar to trips Johnson has given to foreign dignitaries, Cabinet members and others.

"I never expected to make a trip like this," said Billy's father, Joe Miltner. Billy's brother-in-law, Mike Donovan, also accompanied the seventh-grader on the trip from Iowa City.

"It's a pretty nice ranch," Billy said of the tour. Malechek took the three to see Johnson's cattle as well as such must stop for visitors as the Johnson birthplace and the family cemetery.

Billy planned to enter the two calves in his county fair next year as a 4H Club project, but he isn't predicting how well the entries will fare. "You never know," he said as the family car, pulling a rented trailer, left the ranch 15 miles west of here.

Billy was not sympathetic when a photographer, who wanted a picture of Billy standing by the trailer with the rear gate open, found the cattle were facing the opposite direction.

"That's where the high-priced cuts come from," Billy reminded the photographer.

The family did not get to see the President, who shook Billy's hand to close the deal when Johnson was in Des Moines on a campaign tour Oct. 7.

Billy got the idea of buying the calves after seeing a picture of Johnson's Herefords in a magazine and liked the animals' appearance. He wrote the LBJ Ranch without telling his parents, and the deal went through.

He paid Malechek with $300 he made on the sale of his livestock raised for the last county fair. Although those two did not win him a prize, he won a reserve grand championship at last year's fair.

Firemen Battle Two Home Fires

Two fires of undetermined origin, both reported at 11 p.m. Thursday, kept the Monroe fire department busy until nearly dawn Friday with one home being destroyed and extensive damage to two rooms of another home reported.

The J. T. Wilbanks home on Watkins Street, about nine miles from West Monroe, was destroyed by fire.

An 11 p.m. alarm on Kathy Lane in Monroe was answered by the department and firemen battled a blaze in the home of Joe Ware until after 1 a.m.

Two bedrooms in the home were heavily damaged authorities said.

About 5:30 a.m., the department received another call from the Ware house that a mattress had blazed up again. A truck was dispatched to douse the new flame.

MacLAINE'S CAPER

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — Work on a $27,000 cultural center dedicated to the memory of the late President Kennedy was started this week at a site near the truce line north of Seoul.

The two-story building at Tongdouchon is expected to be ready next spring. Funds for it were raised by Song Du Young, a Korean painter.

Attracting Shirley MacLaine's Himalayan caper seems like a nightmare now, she said Friday after a harrowing return journey to India from Bhutan.

The Hollywood star had a safe-journey charm from the Bhutanese Tigers' Nest Monastery wrapped around her waist as she appeared before newsmen in Calcutta.

"I'll never take it off," she said in a preface to the story of her journey out of the Himalayan kingdom.

An attempted coup in Bhutan, diplomatic reports said, was led by friends and followers of A. L. Dhendup, who invited Shirley there.

But when she used Dhendup's name in an attempt to smuggle his secretary out with her into India, guards said: "Dhendup Dorji's orders no longer hold good in Bhutan."

Dhendup himself is understood to have reached London, getting out just in time to avoid arrest. His wife is in Calcutta with Queen Aji Kesang, Dhendup's sister.

King Wangchuk, who had been undergoing medical treatment in Switzerland, rushed home via Calcutta Monday to thwart the plot against him. He conferred here with the Indian Foreign Ministry's secretary.

IN RAIL INDUSTRY

Unions Choose Overall Dealing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite their many recent nationwide disputes, the bulk of the labor unions that deal with the railroad industry said Friday they don't want to go back to the old system of negotiating with one rail line at a time.

"We believe it would be very unwise for Congress to seek to change it," said G. E. Leighty, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives Association.

The association represents 23 unions, most of which have tangled with the industry this year in disputes that threatened nationwide strikes.

One dispute involving shop craft unions is pending although a threatened strike this week was averted. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz will try for a final settlement in talks opening Monday.

All the unions do most of their bargaining with the industry's Railway Labor Conference, representing about 90 per cent of the carriers.

In a letter made Public Friday, Leighty told Rep. James

Roosevelt, D-Calif., on behalf of the chief officers of all 23 unions that:

"We believe that joint national handling of general wage and working conditions movements has been beneficial to both management and labor."

Roosevelt, chairman of a House Labor subcommittee, is investigating the practice of multiemployer bargaining and particularly its impact on the public when disputes lead to strikes and lockouts.

The practice of employers banding together to bargain with labor unions has been increasing in recent years.

"No individual management, even though recognizing the equity of workers' claims, wants to lead the procession," Leighty said. "It thus becomes mutually advantageous to management and labor that these advances be made on an industry-wide basis."

Roosevelt's investigation concerns only multiemployer bargaining, but aides have said it may well lead to a study of multi-union negotiating.

The investigation grew out of a long Maryland supermarket dispute in which the retail clerks' union struck one food chain and several other chains in an employers' association voluntarily shut down in support of the struck firm. Hundreds of stores were closed for months.

Leighty said federal control of the railroads during World War I resulted in generally satisfactory establishment of wages and working conditions but after the industry was turned back to private management, "labor-management relations in the industry were chaotic."

This led to the Railway Labor Act of 1926, which "is itself the product of multiemployer-multi-union negotiation," Leighty said.

Long, who is spending the weekend in Washington en route to New York, added in an interview that he sees no indication that President Johnson will intervene in the whip race when Congress convenes Jan. 4.

Long is locked with Sens. John Pastore (D) R. I., and A. S. Mike Monroney (D) Okla., in contention for the No. 2 spot in the Senate Democratic leadership — a post which will be vacated by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D) Minn., the vice president elect.

Sen. Long had earlier claimed 39 votes — a clear majority of the 68 Democratic senators — when he was pitted only against Pastore. The entry of Monroney in the race, with other possible candidates in the wings, indicated that the whip election will take two or more ballots when the Democrats hold their organization caucus.

Long estimated that in the present situation he should get at least 30 votes on the first ballot and 40 on the second — provided Mr. Johnson takes a neutral stand.

Long said he has talked to the President about the whip post and was assured that so long as the whip is willing to support a substantial part of the White House legislative program he will not interfere.

Vatican Editorial Says Brutalities Political Action

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said Friday the "horrible episodes" in the Congo were not the result of local civil disputes but had been promoted for political and ideological reasons.

The editorial, by the daily's chief editor, Raimondo Manzini, did not specifically mention Communists. But it obviously referred to Red support for the rebels. The editorial said: "It cannot be said the horrible episodes (in the Congo) were sponsored by discordant groups because the (rebel) forces have been promoted as a symbol and instrument of definite political ends and ideological claims."

The editorial said the development in the Congo represented "an extreme of poor coexistence among men without peace."

What happened in the Congo set a record in delirium.

The Vatican newspaper said the victims of the bloody episodes at Stanleyville were both whites and Negroes who were "only guilty of having a different opinion of the armed occupants."

"Among the noble victims," L'Osservatore said, "were a missionary physician, peaceful workers, women and children, priests and nuns, who for years lived in the African country."

L'Osservatore exhorted Roman Catholics to follow the appeal by Pope Paul VI for "material and moral aid" for the Congo.

January Call-Up To Reach 5,400

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army called Friday for drafting 5,400 men in January.

The quota is part of the 13,600 enlisted men with no prior service that the Army estimates will be needed from Selective Service and volunteers for that month.

The 5,400 compares with 7,800 for December. The highest quota for this year was 16,000 last January; the lowest was an August quota of 3,300.

The January quota will bring the total of men drafted since September 1950 to 3,010,350.

Other counts handled included several minor traffic violations.

Long, who is spending the weekend in Washington en route to New York, added in an interview that he sees no indication that President Johnson will intervene in the whip race when Congress convenes Jan. 4.

Motorists Pass Accident Victim On Stormy Night

WOONSOCKET, R.I. (AP) — Knocked unconscious in a traffic accident, a Massachusetts man lay unconscious in puddles of rainwater on a dark and stormy Thanksgiving Eve ignored by more than 30 passing motorists, police said Friday.

Only a neighbor came to the injured and bleeding man, police said, and used a flashlight to keep cars from running

Barge Explosion Kills One; Hurts Four Workers

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — An explosion Friday near a barge in Galveston Bay killed one man and injured four others.

The dead and injured were crewmen on the barge belonging to Brown & Root, Inc., a Houston construction and engineering firm.

A barge cable apparently cut a gas pipeline touching off the explosion.

Killed was Wilford Fontenot of Stowell, Tex. He and the four other crewmen later rescued were blown into the water by the explosion off Red Fish Reef.

Fontenot's body was recovered by Harris County sheriff's marine units four hours after the explosion.

The injured crewmen, admitted to San Jacinto Memorial Hospital in Baytown, are Elmo Petty, 27, James T. Fee, 38, and Clinton D. Gau, all of Anahuac, and E. P. Roche, 40, of Winnie. Gau was reported to be in serious condition.

"I don't know what caused the explosion," said Petty, foreman of the pipeline crew, which was moving an offshore line for an oil company. "We had been welding, but we had shut down the torches."

Petty said one of the lifting cables apparently snagged on the gas pipeline and severed the line.

Mikoyan's Son Says Ex-Leader Enjoys Hunting

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sergei Mikoyan, son of Anastas I. Mikoyan, president of the Soviet Union, says former Soviet Premier Khrushchev is living outside Moscow and "beginning to do what he always planned to do when he retired."

Mikoyan, 36, who spent Thanksgiving Day at the farm home of Cyrus Eaton north of here, told a reporter there was no mystery about what Khrushchev has been doing since leaving power last month.

"He didn't disappear from everyone," Mikoyan declared. "Khrushchev lives 15 miles outside Moscow, spends a lot of time hunting. "He's in fine shape," Mikoyan said.

Eaton, a multimillionaire industrialist, has entertained a number of Soviet leaders at his Acadia Farm estate.

Rights Workers Report Troubles In Mississippi

By The Associated Press

A student civil rights organization complained of "harrassments" in various Mississippi towns Friday on the part of whites in Greenwood, Vicksburg, Ruleville and Columbus.

COFO said Kathy Ruble of Los Angeles was arrested in Ruleville for trespassing while watching a Negro high school football game.

Ruleville Mayor C. M. Dorrough said the white worker had not been arrested but was advised to leave the public school grounds.

COFO said Fred Hamburger of New York City was jailed in Columbus pending $400 bond for two traffic charges.

Columbus authorities confirmed the jailing but declined expansion of the charges.

COFO said a Vicksburg Negro, C. L. Ellis, who was reportedly aiding civil rights workers in that area, complained to city authorities his life had been threatened by an ex-city policeman.

The Vicksburg city police department said Friday it knew nothing of the report.

Quintuplet Not Gaining Ground, Doctor Reports

PARIS (UPI)—The condition of Dominique, one of the four surviving Sabor quintuplets, is worsening steadily, a doctor said Friday.

The report was issued a few hours after the burial of Jean-Luc who died Tuesday.

The bulletin said the condition of Thierry, Catherine and Monique remained unchanged. But Dominique needed continued respiratory aid.

The quintuplets were born to Mrs. Monique Sabor, wife of a Paris postman, Monday. They weighed little more than two pounds each, and had to be placed in incubators.

over him as he lay uncovered at the side of the road.

Several of the motorists — none of whom stopped to help — nearly struck Byron H. Cochrane Jr., 31, who suffered a concussion and was reported in critical condition at a hospital, police said.

Cochrane was struck by an auto while he was opening the door of his own car, Deputy Chief Ernest N. Boucher said.

A companion of the driver of the car which struck him, ran to the fallen man, took his car keys, got behind the wheel of Cochrane's car and rammed it against a pole to make it appear Cochrane was responsible for the accident, Boucher said.

The two then left, leaving the victim lying in the street, he said.

Before police arrived with an ambulance, the two men returned in their car and crashed into the Cochrane auto, Boucher said.

Police arrived seconds later and arrested the two at the scene of the accident.

Roland W. Masse Jr., 20, of South Bellingham, Mass., pleaded innocent Friday to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was released in $1,000 bail in District Court.

Leo T. Cote, 20, of Woonsocket pleaded innocent to charges of aiding and abetting before the fact and leaving the scene and maliciously damaging the property of another and was released in total bail of $2,000.

Explosion Greet
Colonial Official

ADEN (AP) — Bazooka and bomb explosions Friday night greeted British Colonial Secretary Anthony Greenwood at the start of his 10-day visit to the South Arabian Federation. Six men, including two British servicemen, were hospitalized with injuries from a grenade blast at a store in the harbor town of Tawahl. Earlier, a bazooka shell crashed into the window of the Legislative Council Building and, almost simultaneously, a bomb went off near the British Petroleum Co. refinery at little Aden, where on Thursday night four British service wives escaped unhurt when a grenade exploded outside their quarters. Friday.

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI will be guarded by Italian secret servicemen and Carabinieri and not by the Vatican gendarmes when he attends the Eucharistic Congress in Bombay. It was announced Friday.

Precious Cranes
Now Number 42
At Texas Range

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty-two whooping cranes were counted Friday at Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas, the largest number since careful record-keeping began in 1938, a jubilant Fish and Wildlife Service reported.

Three days ago, the wild flock had been counted at 41 birds.

This wild flock includes 10 young of the year, also a record number, and all 32 of the adults that were counted at Aransas last spring, just before the annual northward migration.

"We don't expect any more whoopers to arrive this year, now that the 32nd adult of last year has been sighted," a service spokesman said.

Space Probe By Mariner Reset Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A spacecraft communication problem Friday forced postponement of an attempt to launch the Mariner 4 spacecraft to Mars to snap pictures and probe scientific secrets.

The launching was rescheduled for Saturday in a favorable launching period between 9:22 a.m. and 12:32 p.m. EST.

The trouble cropped up after the countdown on the 10-story-tall Atlas-Agena booster rocket progressed to within 60 minutes of liftoff.

A that time, instruments in the launch control center indicated a drop in strength in radio signals received by the command receiver in the spacecraft.

The source of the trouble was not determined immediately. But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it appeared to be in ground support equipment rather than in the spacecraft.

The command receiver catches radio signals from the ground during flight and translates them into commands to trigger various spacecraft functions.

A major command scheduled between two and 10 days after launching would fire a small steering rocket aboard Mariner to compensate for any trajectory errors created by over performance or underperformance by the rocket.

Ground stations also can direct the spacecraft to perform a number of maneuvers which normally would be activated by automatic systems. The action would be taken only if the auto-

WHY

DO MORE FOLKS BUY THEIR TOYS FROM OUR STORE THAN ANY OTHER AROUND HERE?

WE THINK THE ANSWER IS OBVIOUS!

First — Display. We give N. E. La. one of, if not, the largest showing of toys and wheel goods in the nation. No other area store can even remotely approach our 15,000 sq. feet of pure toy displays . . . not just a small department of a few counters that get lost in a multitude of other unrelated merchandise.

Second—Prices. We invite, in fact urge, you to compare our prices across the board with others, and, if you do, we'll guarantee to save you money, time, and patience.
